

"CHEVROLET'S First Again!"

Men and products may vie for leadership, but it is the public that confers it, and again in 1940, for the ninth time in the last ten years, people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make of car.

German Machines Chased Across the Channel

R.A.F. REPELS STRONG ENEMY BOMBING RAIDS, NAZI PLANES DOWNED

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—An Air Ministry communiqué issued to-day states:

"Attempts by strong forces of enemy bombers, escorted by fighters, to attack shipping and other objectives round our coasts to-day were met with vigorous resistance."

"Our fighters shot down twelve enemy aircraft and damaged many more."

"One of our fighters was lost."

"Aircraft of the Coastal Command, while on patrol in the Channel, accounted for an enemy float plane."

"In the course of the day, R.A.F. bombers attacked military objectives in the Low Countries. One of our aircraft is missing."

"Yesterday our bombers delivered a daylight attack on aerodromes at St. Omer and Amiens. Five of our aircraft failed to return. In addition, an aircraft of the Coastal Command was lost on patrol."

In another battle over the southeast of England between seven enemy machines and Spitfires, one enemy bomber and four German airmen were rescued from the fiercely burning wreck.

The remainder of the invading planes were chased out over the Channel.

Three high explosive bombs dropped in the vicinity and exploded in a field without causing damage.

Two aeroplanes, believed to be German bombers, crashed into the sea about five miles away.

Raid On Boulogne

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—The Air Ministry news service states that five enemy aircraft are believed to have been destroyed and others severely damaged in a dawn raid on the Boulogne aerodrome by R.A.F. medium bombers.

The raiders took the ground defences by surprise, dropped their bombs and got away before the aircraft batteries could fire.

The first attackers scored a number of hits with high explosive bombs along one side of the aerodrome.

Ten minutes later 20 enemy aircraft standing at the back of some hangars were attacked.

MARINES REPLY

Sequel To Incident At Shanghai

Shanghai, July 11.
American Marines were to-day ordered to wear their uniforms at all times. The reason has not been disclosed but it is speculated that it is either the first step toward general stand-by orders or a protective measure against an irresponsible attempt at retaliation for Sunday's incident against individual marines.

This should remove the possibility of claims that the victims were not recognised as marines because of their civilian clothes.

The American Embassy has withdrawn a formal statement on Col. Peck's reply but indications are that it will probably be unsatisfactory to the Japanese.

Colonel Peck, Commander of the United States Marine unit, has sent his reply to the Japanese Consul General Mr. Y. Miura, but the contents of the reply have not been announced.

The Tairiku Shimbun said it was recently learned that 11 of the arrested Japanese gendarmes were seriously or slightly injured as a result of the "outrages" of the American Marines.

The newspaper said that 21 Marines attacked one Japanese gendarme upon whom they "committed outrages," and described the Marines' treatment of the gendarmes as "senseless cruelty."

The Japanese Army organ, the Sin Shun Pao, to-day carries a front page picture with a large question mark superimposed and a large caption "American Colonel nursing malice ambitions to evade insults to Japanese gendarmes—Americans explanation ridiculous."

Outspoken Remarks

The Tairiku Shimbun carried a headline "Strike the destroyer of our army's fame and reputation—the absence of an American reply indicates their dishonest attitude."

The same paper published the text of a resolution that the mass meeting of the Japanese Young Men's Association adopted last night.

The incident conspicuously displays the American's hostile attitude towards Japan. The Imperial Army's fame has been completely destroyed—devastated and ravaged by United States Marines' muddy boots. The blood of hundreds of thousands of brave Japanese soldiers has evaporated, America's negligence will leave a grave result. Our indignation has reached a climax and our patience is exhausted. Not only is it plain that America is an enemy to the rehabilitation of East Asia but it is also evident that they are contemplating hostilities against Japan. To achieve the aim of the Holy War we must order the withdrawal of America and other nations supporting Chiang Kai-shek. We must sweep away their inconsistencies," the resolution said.

Intending bidders are advised that immediately after the disposal of the lot the Purchaser (if not the applicant) will be required to deposit with an authorised officer who will be present at the sale, the sum of two hundred dollars, ($200) in cash. This sum will be refunded on payment of the Purchase price.

'Tell me, doctor . . .

Are you sure? I can't believe that all this should have started with a tiny cut on the finger! There must be some way of preventing such awful results . . . Tell me, what ought I to do?

The smallest cut or scratch is enough for the germs of blood-poisoning to enter. There is only one way to prevent their invasion: they must be killed—at once. 'Dettol,' the Modern Antiseptic, can be applied immediately. 'Dettol' is gentle and tender on human tissues, non-poisonous and non-staining to the skin—yet death to germs. Your chemist has 'Dettol.'

WAGES HAVE RISEN BY £2,000,000 A WEEK SINCE WAR STARTED

Most Of The Increase Goes Into Savings

By EDWARD C. GAYLER,
Sunday Dispatch Financial News Editor

BRITAIN'S wage bill has gone up by well over £2,000,000 a week since the war started. This sum represents the increases which employers are paying to their staffs to meet the increased cost of living.

It does not include overtime payments. Were this sum to be included, the total increase would be somewhere in the neighbourhood of £7,000,000 extra a week.

Part of this "extra" wages is going into the National Exchequer in the form of Savings Certificates and Post Office Savings Bank Deposits.

Since the National Savings Committee started its campaign, well over £190,000,000 has been raised to finance our war effort. Last week's total "small" savings was nearly £11,000,000, or the best week since the beginning of last December.

Then the new War Loan brought in an additional £300,000,000.

Now that strict control is being exercised over war profits, with the application of 100 per cent. Excess Profits Tax and the limitation of dividends, people all over the country want to invest in Government securities.

Waiting For A New Loan

The public is anxiously awaiting another War Loan in order to find an outlet for savings accumulated in the last few months. As soon as Sir Kingsley Wood cares to announce the details of his next loan, he can be assured of success.

In the meantime, people with money saved up need not wait for a new loan. They can put their money into Savings Certificates. It is not too much to expect £1,000,000 a day from this source.

At present, individual subscription to National Savings Certificates is limited to £375 worth, i.e., 500 Savings Certificates. No one is allowed to hold more than this amount for himself, but a man with a family can buy 500 certificates each for wife and children.

THE FIRST WOMAN

SPY TO DIE

MME. Carmen Mori, 33-years-old native of Berne, Switzerland, who has been described as the "Mata Hari of 1940," is to face a firing squad.

Her appeal against sentence of death for spying was recently rejected.

Fritz Erler, one-time Berlin scenario writer, who was her assistant, also had his appeal against death rejected.

Carmen was betrayed by a dog while hiding in a cupboard to listen to a conversation between two German refugees, Max Braun, former Saar Socialist leader, and Helmuth Klotz, an ex-member of the German Imperial Navy.

The Government needs every penny that the public can spare, and it is the small investors who are the backbone of the country's finance.

People who have reached the maximum of Savings Certificates can start again with National Defence Bonds, which are obtainable in multiples of £5. They can be bought through the many existing Savings Groups.

"Guess Where" Note In Burning Building

A pencilled note with the words "Guess Where" and signed "C." was found on the door when a banana storage building in Byngroad, Barnet, Herts, was on fire recently.

Members of the Barnet Air Defence Cadet Corps, who were parading on a school playground helped to get a lorry from the burning building.

HAILE SELASSIE IN LONDON

UPI

Cable picture from London shows Haile Selassie, exiled Ethiopian Emperor, as he rushed to London from home at Bath, after Italy entered war.

He may make attempt to regain his throne from Italians.

How Mrs. Alice Gilbert, 37, an Austrian, of Hill-way, Highgate, was found unconscious in a furnished flat in St. George's-square, S.W., on May 28 and died next day from coma was described at the inquest which opened at Westminster.

A pathologist stated that he could not say what was the cause of the coma, and it was stated that an analysis would be made.

Mr. Geza Nagel, of Hill-way, Highgate, said that Mrs. Gilbert, who was his housekeeper, was a "C" category alien.

It was stated that when the police entered the flat they found Mrs. Gilbert near a disconnected gas stove.

PARACHUTISTS:
POLICE ARMED

BRITAIN is now thoroughly prepared to deal with invasion by parachute troops. Holiday makers saw some of the precautions in operation recently.

Soldiers carrying revolvers mixed with the crowds on the sea-front of one town, and also patrolled the pier.

Bridges, main cross-roads, and other strategic points in the area were under armed guard.

At a civil airport in one town, troops in steel helmets, with fixed bayonets, guarded all approach roads and kept watch from the tower of the Administration building.

In some towns every N.C.O., although normally off duty, is carrying a rifle and ball ammunition. Certain police officers have been issued with automatic revolvers.

The new precautions cover inland as well as coastal areas. Large forces of troops and police were mobilised during the weekend. Thousands of small mobile military units have been formed.

They can be sent to threatened spots in lorries and cars, with rifles, machine-guns, and grenades, within a few minutes of getting warning.

Light tanks can also be rushed to any part of the country should parachute invaders prove particularly formidable.

Troops have been posted at vulnerable points; trenches have been hastily dug; barbed-wire barricades erected across roads.

Recently hundreds of cars, motor-cycles and motor-cycles were stopped on certain roads. Police co-operated with soldiers in stopping all vehicles and checking the identity of passengers.

WORKERS SAY: 'CANCEL ALL HOLIDAYS'

WORKERS throughout the country are urging employers to cancel all holidays in response to the appeal by Mr. Bevin, Minister of Supply, for a 24-hours-a-day, week drive for munitions.

After meetings between representatives of workers and employers at Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire, iron and steel works it was announced that all holidays had been cancelled at the request of 15,000 workers.

Leicester miners are working a full-shift day on Saturday to assist Britain's effort to produce more coal.

This means that the men do not leave the pits till 2.30.

Cricket and bowls matches in which miners usually take part on Saturday afternoons are being played in the evenings.

Some of the miners will work on Sunday.

The National Union of Blast Furnacemen decided to suspend all holidays to maintain the war production drive.

Mr. Ambrose Callaghan, of Middlesbrough, general secretary of the Union, said that he had received requests from all over the country to cancel all cancellation of holidays.

"I am optimistic enough to believe that if we all pull our weight we will achieve victory some time this year, after which our workers can get their holidays," he added.

Woman's Death Baffles Expert

The Bridal Gown

IT was such a pretty wedding dress . . .

There it lay all ready for the wedding that was to take place next day . . . a wedding for which the bride, 20-years-old Marie Ellen Hope, had travelled 3,000 miles across the ocean from Canada to England.

Joyce Harriet Humphries, who lived in the same house in which the bride was staying, was only 20 too.

And she could not keep her eyes off that wedding dress and the other dainty articles of the bride's trousseau.

"I wonder how it would look on me," she whispered to herself.

No sooner said than done. Evidently she started to try it on.

Footsteps . . .

Then she heard footsteps coming up the stairs.

She was frightened now . . .

Nobody saw her as she dashed into her own bedroom. But she had the wedding dress and other things with her.

Time after time she tried to return them. But someone always came up the stairs as she did so.

The wedding took place next day, but the bride had no wedding dress.

Instead she had to marry her soldier sweetheart in the clothes which she wore coming over from Canada.

She saw her wedding dress again—in Woking Police Court, where Joyce, now in tears, pleaded guilty to stealing it. And then the whole story came out.

Joyce was put on probation for a year and ordered to pay 10s. costs.

JAPAN AND HONGKONG

Colonial Secretary On Distortion Of Facts

It was reported in an evening newspaper yesterday that Mr. K. Okazaki, the Japanese Consul-General, had conveyed three demands of his Government to the Hongkong authorities, and that these include besides the prohibition of all exportation of materials and supplies to the Chungking Government—a demand for the suppression of anti-Japanese propaganda in the foreign and Chinese Press, and closure of all Chinese political organisations here.

Interviewed by a S. C. M. Post reporter, Mr. Okazaki said he would not state that he had actually made the requests enumerated, as it was a matter between the two Governments.

"It is natural for us to make such requests, however," he said. "We have made these requests not only of the Hongkong Government but of other Governments also. The Burma road report is inaccurate. I don't know where that could have come from."

A reporter also saw the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. Noyes, to the accuracy of the report. He said it was not true, and declared:

"The statement in the China Mail of July 11 regarding three issues said to have been raised through the Japanese Consulate-General is quite unauthorised and represents a considerable distortion of the facts. Such hasty and irresponsible publication of rumours causes nothing but misunderstanding and trouble, and the Government has recently taken powers to deal with it."

A Silent Column

London, July 11.

An urgent and intensive campaign will be launched to-morrow by the Ministry of Information on behalf of the Government to organise the entire British population into a "silent column" pledged to kill rumour, stop indiscreet talk and mobilise itself against depressing and defeatist conversations.

All methods of publicity will be used to the fullest extent to secure these ends.

One of the schemes is for "chatter boxes" to be placed in clubs, hotels and homes, and offenders will be invited to make contributions to charities.—Reuters.

WARSHIPS ON GUARD

Vichy Verdict Awaited

Washington, July 11. Diplomatic circles reported to-day that the French aircraft carrier Bearn might leave Martinique and be interned at New Orleans.

It is reliably learnt that there are warships about Martinique in concentric circles—first, the French within the three-mile limit; second, the British outside; and, third, the Americans outside them and on observation duty.

All are awaiting the decision from Vichy regarding the disposition of the French units.—United Press.

Health Maintained Despite Refugee Influx

Hongkong and Shanghai have given a lesson to the world in the care of refugees, said Dr. J. C. Geiger, Director of Public Health in San Francisco, yesterday. Dr. Geiger is on one of his regular visits to the East to renew contacts with medical workers here.

"Whenever there is the sort of influx these cities have experienced, it is natural to expect a sharp rise in disease figures," he said. "In a large number of refugees from areas where there are not the facilities or background of public health work, there are bound to be some with disease. People suffering from malnutrition are susceptible to other diseases. Yet every major disease has been checked in Hongkong. There is no plague and no rise in the malaria index. That is quite an achievement."

Dr. Geiger believes that an epidemic of some kind is inevitable after the wars in Europe and Asia.

"When millions of men are concentrated for war purposes, when whole nations are set moving and migrating, without proper food or shelter, something is bound to happen. What it will be no-one knows, but public health workers regard an outbreak as inevitable," he declared.

"Fortunately, public health workers are better prepared for a post-war epidemic than they were in 1910. But for years millions of people in Europe have been living on substitute foods and inadequate diets, which must affect their resistance to such an outbreak."

"America is one of the countries where malnutrition is least a problem. Yet in San Francisco alone we spend US$300,000 a year supplying milk and orange juice to undernourished children."

"The refugee and epidemic question may be very grave after the war. That is why it is heartening to find in Hongkong a demonstration of what can be done for refugees and for the protection of the general public where in the world," he added.

German Machines Chased Across the Channel

R.A.F. REPELS STRONG ENEMY BOMBING RAIDS, NAZI PLANES DOWNED

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—An Air Ministry communiqué issued to-day states:

"Attempts by strong forces of enemy bombers, escorted by fighters, to attack shipping and other objectives round our coasts to-day were met with vigorous resistance."

"Our fighters shot down twelve enemy aircraft and damaged many more."

"One of our fighters was lost."

"Aircraft of the Coastal Command, while on patrol in the Channel, accounted for an enemy float plane."

"In the course of the day, R.A.F. bombers attacked military objectives in the Low countries. One of our aircraft is missing."

"Yesterday our bombers delivered a daylight attack on aerodromes at St. Omer and Amiens. Five of our aircraft failed to return. In addition, an aircraft of the Coastal Command was lost on patrol."

In another battle over the southeast of England between seven enemy machines and Spitfires, one enemy

bomber and four German airmen were rescued from the fiercely burning wreck.

The remainder of the invading planes were chased out over the Channel.

Three high explosive bombs dropped in the vicinity and exploded in a field without causing damage.

Two aeroplanes, believed to be German bombers, crashed into the sea about five miles away.

Raid on Boulogne

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—The Air Ministry news service states that five enemy aircraft are believed to have been destroyed and others severely damaged in a dawn raid on the Boulogne aerodrome by R.A.F. medium bombers.

The raiders took the ground defences by surprise, dropped their bombs and got away before the aircraft batteries could fire.

The first attackers scored a number of hits with high explosive bombs along one side of the aerodrome. Ten minutes later 20 enemy aircraft standing at the back of some hangars were attacked.

12 Planes Downed

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—It is officially announced that 12 enemy aircraft were shot down and many damaged by the R.A.F. in to-day's attacks round the British coasts.

Military objectives in France and the Low Countries were again successfully bombed.

Nazi Fantasies

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Authoritative quarters in London issue the following comment on the German High Command's communiqué:

"Germany's air claims, which become daily more and more fantastic, are the measure of her annoyance over her own heavy losses."

"Yesterday's figures are a particularly sore point owing to their disproportion to British losses. For 14 German machines destroyed and 23 badly damaged, Britain lost only two fighters and not 35 machines as to-day's German communiqué claims."

First Aid Post Wrecked

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Some 15 explosive bombs were dropped on the south-east of England to-day. One fell on a first aid post, killing the people therein. Ten people in shelters were only sixteen feet from where a bomb exploded, but all escaped uninjured.

Twenty-four machines participated in the raid, and it is believed that four were brought down.

The principal thoroughfare in one town presented the appearance of an earthquake having taken place. Two hotels and several large business establishments were damaged as were banks and police station.

Havoc in Germany

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Reports received in London from Stockholm state that severe havoc has been caused by R.A.F. raids on towns in northern Germany.

Turkey's own attitude is likely to be made known in an official declaration which may be issued to-morrow. Exasperation appears to be growing in Turkey at German interference in her affairs. As seen here, the Axis powers appear to be concentrating on distracting Russia's attention from the Balkans and the Soviet Union, which had had no such contact since the Soviet regime was instituted.

Police And Gang Exchange Shots

A party of Police about 10 in number, comprising Europeans, Indians and Chinese, were sent to raid a gang of Chinese believed to be responsible for molesting farmers and their property in the New Territories during recent weeks.

They went yesterday morning and searched the countryside between Uu Long and Castle Peak. At about noon they sighted on a hill a gang of men. Apparently the gang saw the Police and fired at them.

Shots Exchanged

The Police immediately spread out in an endeavour to encircle the gang and there was an exchange of shots. The Police party laid low for some time and sent one of their number to telephone for reinforcements from Kowloon, but before their arrival the gang managed to disperse among the brush and get away.

One Man Wounded

On searching the area the Police found one man badly wounded in the leg. He was removed to the Kowloon Hospital.

The Police believe that other members of the gang were also hit during the fire but that they were not so severely wounded as to prevent them making their escape.

Although many shots were fired by the gang, there were no casualties on the Police side.

Carrying their search further the Police found on a seashore nearby two sampans which they believe belonged to the gang. These were seized by the Police.

Evacuees & Duty-Free Clothing

A reader of the "Hongkong Telegraph" asked us to ascertain if Government would facilitate the free delivery to evacuated families in Manila of clothes and other necessities required for a prolonged stay or made desirable to avoid paying the high prices for such things charged in Manila.

The Government official in charge replied that the matter had not been brought to his notice. He had no doubt that if people wrote in to Government, Government would see what could be done.

Bombs Sink Italian Destroyer

One Italian destroyer and the bulk of a type generally used as a depot or storeship were sunk.

All our aircraft returned safely.

SHANGHAI INCIDENT

Settlement Likely
This Morning

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

SHANGHAI, July 12 (UP).—American Marine and Japanese Army officers are meeting this morning at the Marine Headquarters at the request of the Japanese.

It is believed that the meeting will result in a settlement of the incident, probably with a mutual expression of regret.

This is indicated by the fact that the Japanese army newspapers "Taikoku-Shimbun" and the "Sin Shun Pao" have abandoned their violent anti-American tone, and are predicting a settlement of the incident to-day.

ULSTER WON'T BE QUITTER

BELFAST, July 11 (Reuter).—Lord Craigavon, the Prime Minister of Ulster, has issued a statement supplementing that made in Parliament.

In this statement, he says: "Ulster security can best be assured by taking one step that could make military co-operation effective—abandonment of neutrality and declaration of full association with Britain and the Empire in waging war."

"Ulster has no intention of abandoning its war effort and seeking illusory refuge in neutrality. It is not acting selfishly but in the highest interests of Ulster and the United Kingdom. Ulster will not be a party to exposing Britain's western flank to the enemy."

GERMANY AND IRE

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—A Bremen radio broadcast in English to-night referred to Eire's preparations to defend her neutrality and the position of Britain. The announcer said that Germany was carefully observing these developments because she was only interested in the maintenance of absolute unreserved neutrality by Eire.

SKY IS LIMIT IN PURCHASES

American Aircraft For Britain

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—British policy regarding aircraft imports from America was to buy everything we could get, Lord Beaverbrook told the House of Lords to-day.

He declared: "In aircraft, the sky is the limit. In pursuit of that programme we have spent $10,000,000 for every day that the Aircraft Ministry has been in existence, including the French purchases."

"Altogether with the French purchases, we have spent over $60,000,000 out of a total programme of $1,000,000,000. The money is wisely spent."

Lord Beaverbrook said there had never been an hour's delay on account of the Treasury. The Americans were up to date with the programme and had so far delivered everything they had promised and were a little ahead of time.

We had not shortage of aircraft, but we must continue developing the programme as fully as possible.

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

VICHY, July 11 (UP).—According to the French Government, H.M.S. Hermes, the British aircraft-carrier which at one time was attached to the China Squadron, took a prominent part in the battle of Dakar.

The French claim that planes from the Hermes bombed Dakar provoking anti-aircraft fire.

It is also stated that the planes attacked after the Admiral commanding the French naval forces in West Africa had ignored the British ultimatum to surrender several small French units in the port.

MOSCOW, July 11 (Reuter).—President Kalinin received the newly appointed Yugo-Slave minister to Milan, M. Gabrolović, thus marking the beginning of direct diplomatic relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union, which had had no such contact since the Soviet regime was instituted.

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

BERLIN, July 11 (UP).—D.N.B. reports from Brussels that former Military Judge Vandermeersch and Director of State Police, M. Defoy, together with five other high police officials, have been arrested "in connection with an investigation in which thousands of persons were smuggled out of Belgian territory, most of them men."

Relations With Soviet

The Parliamentary Group approved, unanimously and amid applause, the Premier's review.

To-day's meeting apparently centred on Turko-Russian relations though official circles still discount all talk of a Russian "ultimatum" to Turkey. Relations between the two countries now appear to near crystallisation, especially as regards the long-standing Russian desire for a free passage of her warships through the Dardanelles.

It would not be surprising, in view of the recent Press campaign, if the Russians at once sought a revision of the treaty of Monroe, which gave Turkey power to forbid the passage of warships through the Straits.

Nazi Interference

Turkey's own attitude is likely to be made known in an official declaration which may be issued to-morrow. Exasperation appears to be growing in Turkey at German interference in her affairs.

As seen here, the Axis powers appear to be concentrating on distracting Russia's attention from the Balkans and the Soviet Union, which had had no such contact since the Soviet regime was instituted.

CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—One German plane was shot down by anti-aircraft fire off the south-east coast to-night. One member of the crew, bailed out and landed in the sea.

Between 20 and 30 planes appeared over the coast, but after some fighting they turned back to sea and were seen being engaged by fighters which repeatedly dived to attack.

There were civilian casualties in a south-east coast town after a raid by three waves of German aircraft.

BRITAIN'S ASSURANCE

No Interference With Japan's Trade

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—So long as Japan's remaining neutral Britain has no intention of interfering with her legitimate trade," declares a statement issued by the Ministry of Economic Warfare on the subject of the Pan-American conference at Havana on July 20 on America's surplus production problem.

The statement says: "Britain's interest in the conference is in preventing supplies finding their way to Germany and Italy, or to the German-occupied countries."

"Reports have sometimes bracketed Japan with Germany and Italy in connection with the blockade. Such reports are erroneous since Japan is a neutral country."

Will Be Intercepted

"While the Havana conference is not concerned with blockade questions," continues the statement, "shipments from the Americas destined for the enemy or enemy-occupied countries will be intercepted by our contraband control."

"In the face of the ruthless German blockade of the United Kingdom it will not be for us to relax any of our blockade measures, but rather to persevere with them to the utmost, believing that any relaxation would serve to lengthen the war."

The Ministry statement added that Britain was anxious to see whether she could co-operate in a study of possible solutions to the Americas' surplus production problems which have been accentuated by the war.

Police Seize Chinese Codes

School Teacher Charged And Remanded

For unlawful possession of three code books or ciphers at 33 Fuk Wing Street, Lam Chung-yuen, described as a school teacher, appeared before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. Defendant said that the codes had never been used in Hongkong. They were brought down from Canton in March last year. He was responsible for them to the Kwangtung Government and if he were to return to Kwangtung he would have to account for the codes to the Fifth Route Army.

Translation

Mr. Macfadyen explained to the defendant that he was arrested because he had no permission from the Hongkong Government to retain the codes. Det.-Sgt. Macpherson, who prosecuted, said that other documents had been seized and were now in course of translation. He said the Police were opposing granting of bail and asked for three days' remand for further inquiries. The codes were seized during raid on the premises yesterday.

WHEN ENGLAND LAUGHS

would need if they were to buy a bottle of whisky after paying their income tax.

But the greatest hardship of all for many people has evidently been the Government's unwillingness to accept all volunteers for the Services until such time as they can be efficiently absorbed. It is stated that one business man met a young stockbroker from Liverpool and asked him what he was doing in London. He said he had come to enlist. "Good heavens," was the reply. "You must have a lot of influence."

This desire to be "up and at 'em" is clearly shown by the vast number of humorous salutes about the leaflet raids on Germany. It is said that one of the R.A.F. pilots who had been dropping leaflets returned to headquarters four hours after he was due. His Commanding Officer demurred: "An explanation," he replied. "Well, sir," he answered, "I was so quiet that I went down and pushed them under the doors." Another pilot returned much earlier than the others. It turned out that he had dropped the heavy parcels of leaflets without unloading them first. "Good heavens, man," exclaimed his C.O., "You might have killed somebody!" And it was possibly the same pilot who, asked his C.O. later, "Well, sir, what do I drop on them now, leaflets or ration cards?"

This humorous impatience has evidently spread to the other Services: witness the alleged recent scene on the bridge of a patrolling destroyer. The First Lieutenant approaches the Captain:

"Why have we stopped, sir?"

"There is an enemy submarine immediately below us."

"Shall I get busy with the depth charges, sir?"

"No, I'm sending down a diver with leaflets."

So England laughs. But it would be wrong to judge from this apparent light-hearted attitude of the Englishman that he is not serious in his determination to fight and win. Laughter can sometimes be a dangerous signal, as it is always a revelation of confident strength.

LIFE IN BRITISH SUBMARINE

will be interested to know that bunks aboard submarines are called "hot beds", because on a change of Watch those coming off duty turn into the other fellow's bunk which is thus always warm!

Not least amongst the priceless personal possessions of "submariners" is the essential gift of humour, an imperturbability and balance of temper which is a characteristic trait of the Briton at war. Humour is as vital as personal poise in a life which is always keyed up and tense from the moment the submarine sails till she makes a friendly landfall.

PETAIN'S ALIBI BROADCAST

Seat Of Government To Be Transferred

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH".
GRENOBLE, July 11 (UP).—Marshal Petain, in a broadcast to-night, announced that he has formed a new Government composed of 12 Ministers. He has named the Governors for the 12 provinces of France.

Terming the British attack on the French Fleet as unjustifiable, Petain said, "If England thought we would give our Fleet to Germany, she was wrong."

The French Government will ask the German Government's permission to transfer the seat of government into German-occupied territory. The Government will go to Versailles and the Ministries to Paris."

He criticised the "international capitalism and international socialism which have exploited and degraded France."

He expressed his pleasure at the support the new Constitution is receiving and explained that it would prove a safeguard to the rights of family and labour, especially youth.

Reports from Vichy said the National Assembly voted to grant the supreme powers to Marshal Petain "with the right to regulate labour and family in the Fatherland."

"France now becomes an authoritative and co-operative State," the announcement said.

Demands On Rumania

Probable Outcome Of Tri-Power Talks

BUDAPEST, July 11 (Reuter).—Count Teleki to-day reported on his conversations with Hitler, Ribbentrop and Ciano to the Hungarian Regent, Admiral Horthy.

Although there is genuine satisfaction at the invitation to the Hungarian statesmen to the Axis discussions, there is, nevertheless, some anxiety which will be relieved when the public know that Count Teleki has not returned empty handed.

It appears likely that Rumania will eventually be asked to yield Hungary a comparatively small strip of territory along the western frontier, including Magyar and the towns of Arad and Szatmar.

Talks At An End

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, arrived back in Rome to-day.

Count Teleki, the Hungarian Premier, and Count Csaky, his Foreign Minister, have returned to Budapest from Munich.

Their talks with Hitler and Ribbentrop ended on Wednesday night. Although it was stated that they would deal with Hungary's claim on Rumania, no mention of this was made in the official communiques which merely referred to the friendly atmosphere of the talks.

According to the Rome Press, Hungary was advised not to press her claims for the time being.

Hungarian Government newspaper, "Pester Lloyd," says that Hungary believes that she will play her part in the creation of a new order in Europe. Hungary will assume with joyous satisfaction the role which will be indicated to her by the dictators.

Belgian Officials Arrested

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—According to a Brussels message to the official German news agency, the former Belgian military Judge, M. van der Meersch, the Director of the Security Police, M. Defoy, and five other high officials of the Security Police have been arrested.

They are said to be connected with sending thousands of people out of Belgium after the German invasion.

Prominent M.P. Dies

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—The death is announced of Mr. Charles Morel, Member of Parliament for Preston.

A Conservative, Mr. Morel was returned at the by-election on November 25, 1936.

Britain's Protection Against Starvation

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—In the House of Commons to-day, the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. R. S. Hudson, said that unless something unforeseen occurs between now and the harvest, we estimate that we shall realise as great a proportionate increase in our general farm production in the first 12 months of the war as we did during the last 18 months of the last war.

We must, said Mr. Hudson, rule enough food to keep the population healthy, even if our imports were imperilled.

The tens of millions of people in the continent are going to face in the next 12 months the danger of starvation. Millions may perish.

British agriculture will play a large part in saving the people of this island from a similar fate.

U.S. TO BUILD MORE PLANES

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—The National Advisory Defence Commission announces that orders for new aircraft totalling $100,000,000 will be placed in a few days.

Contract negotiations are being negotiated to place the total aircraft purchase programme at 25,000 planes with the final delivery date July, 1942.

Twenty-one per cent. of the planes will be for the Navy and the rest for the Army.

HUNGARY AND AXIS Teleki Is Supreme Optimist

BUDAPEST, July 11 (Reuter).—Count Teleki, the Hungarian Prime Minister, on his return with Count Csaky from the conference at Munich with Hitler and Count Ciano, said: "We are deeply grateful that amidst the life and death struggle of the Reich and on the eve of a fresh test, the Fuehrer found time to hear us in the presence of Count Ciano and take cognisance of vital Hungarian problems."

"I and the Foreign Minister are convinced that the Axis powers esteem Hungary as a friend who remains, in good or bad fortune, attached to them."

Count Teleki added that he was extremely grateful to Germany's deeply sympathetic attitude towards the Hungarian representatives.

OTTAWA, July 11 (Reuter).—The Opposition Leader, Mr. Richard Hanson, has rejected the proposal made by Mr. W. L. Mackenzie King that Mr. Hanson should become a member of the Advisory Committee to the War Cabinet.

DEFENCE OF EGYPT

Britain's Promise To Hold Good

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—In the course of a statement on the position in the Near East, Lord Halifax in the House of Lords said that in view of the rumours spread by enemy propaganda, he wished to make it quite plain that since Italy entered the war, Britain had never pressed the Egyptian Government to declare war on her.

It was, however, obvious that British forces in Egypt, which at the request of the Egyptian Government, had been strongly reinforced, would conduct operations against Italy from Egyptian territory.

To Fulfil Obligations

We intended to fulfil our obligations to defend Egypt, whose independence and vital interests were threatened by the Italian declaration of war against Britain. Egypt's ally, "I am happy to say, that the Egyptian people as a whole fully understand that their interests are indissolubly linked with ours and regard the Italian promises and fair words with well-founded suspicion and view with extreme detestation the possibility of Italian encroachment upon Egyptian or Sudanese soil. They remember only too well the Italian action in Libya and Abyssinia, and have no doubt about the scope of the total Italian aspirations.

There was a certain delay in the Italian Minister's departure from Cairo and they and other enemy agents instigated that Egypt would ignore her treaty obligations, she might avoid the worst consequences of Italian aggression.

Fateful Moment

"Many representative Egyptians held that at this fateful moment for Egypt the interests of the Egyptian people demanded a stronger Government to demonstrate the country's determination to carry out to the letter and spirit of the treaty to the full."

The British Government felt entitled to intimate to their ally that this was also their view since the defence of Egypt devolves primarily upon us and we have very definite obligations under the treaty."

Palestine Quiet

Referring to Palestine, Lord Halifax said the situation there remains quiet and, apart from isolated acts of banditry, the country is enjoying a respite from internal disorder.

The release from internment of a large number of Arabs was received with appreciation.

One effect of Italy's entry had been to strengthen pro-British sentiment in all sections of the community.

The Jewish community was co-operating fully in matters of defence and the emergency measures which the present situation demanded, while the co-operation of the Arabs, who viewed with abhorrence the prospect of the application of Palestine in Libya, was no less whole-hearted.

Closely Tied With Turkey

"We remain bound to Turkey by the closest ties," continued Lord Halifax. He recalled that on Italy's entry into the war, the Turkish Prime Minister declared that Turkey would maintain the attitude of non-belligerency.

His Majesty's Government fully appreciate the circumstances which led to this decision of the Turkish Government, who throughout have acted in close contact with that of His Majesty.

In the meantime, our treaty with Turkey stands, as does the loyal friendship and sympathy between our two peoples, on which the treaty was based and which has rendered in the past, as I hope it will in the future, a fruitful basis of constructive co-operation between us as long as the war continues and in the years of peace to come."

Nazi Duplicity

Lord Halifax continued: "Meanwhile the Germans are actively engaged in stirring up unwarranted suspicions and alarms wherever possible in the Balkans and in the Near East in hopes of making these countries the dupes of German policy, but I hope and believe that the peoples of that region, some of whom will not be enticed, will remain steadfast in their loyalty to the principles for which we are fighting, and I am encouraged to think that we are showing ourselves capable of affording assistance and protection to our friends and Allies in that part of the world."

"We shall maintain our efforts and prosecute the war with the utmost vigour, being confident of ultimate success of our arms."

Stock Exchange Strengthens

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—On the Stock Exchange to-day, oil holdings opened easy and later strengthened on better support, but other sections closed lower owing to quietness of trading.

Gilt-edged securities fluctuated narrowly. The final prices were unchanged or were slightly easier on the day.

Wall Street was firm.

New Fleet Bases Suggested

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—A recommendation that the United States should acquire and fortify fleet and air bases in Nova Scotia and Bermuda was made by three members of the House of Representatives Military Committee after a survey of the north-eastern coastal defences.

PAPERS LAUGH AT ITALY

The Ark Royal Legend Appears Again

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, July 11 (UP).—Afternoon papers to-day like at Italy regarding her claim to have hit the Ark Royal and Hood.

The "Evening Star" had a headline, "Italy Borrows Goebbel's Ark Royal Story" and had this lead to the story, "The Ark Royal and the Hood have now been 'hit' by Italian projectiles."

The "Evening News" had a headline, "Rome Takes Lessons From Goebbel."

The "Star" said: "The sinking of the Ark Royal used to be favourite pastime of Goebbel's."

Mediterranean Chase

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Commenting on the Italian version of the short clash in the Mediterranean, the "Times" points out that both the British and Italian communiques agreed that it ended in a chase.

Since it is well-known that Italian battleships have an advantage of several knots the world will be able to judge who was the pursued and who was the unsuccessful pursuer.

The "Yorkshire Post" commenting on the Rome version of the combat says: "Mussolini's Press chief is asping Dr. Goebbel by sinking the British Navy with salvos of long-range communiqué. It is a pity to contrast them with cold facts."

FRENCH TROOPS JOIN BRITISH

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Unconfirmed reports from Ankara state that about 8,000 French officers, including General Mittelhuuser's staff, have crossed over into Palestine and have joined the British.

Other French nationals who prefer not to be under the totalitarian yoke include 180 boys of between the ages of 14 and 16 who escaped from France after the collapse. They are now leaving London for a camp in north-west England.

They are all under military age but were scouts or cadets in France. They have all been given scout uniforms and will stay in camp until their future is settled.

Leave Alexandria

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Several hundred French sailors of all ranks, from the naval units at Alexandria, have embarked for Syria from whence they will eventually proceed to France.

Anarchists Start To Get Busy

NEW YORK, July 11 (Reuter).—Police Commissioner Valentine of New York revealed to-day that a number of bombs were found in Philadelphia last month while the Republican Convention was in session.

He stated that in another Police quarter, seven bombs were found, some under construction, in a meeting hall frequented by Communists.

Mr. Valentine stated that the bomb outrage in the British Pavilion of the World's Fair recently was "just the beginning." He foresees the possibility of further bombings in New York due to representatives of belligerent nations who are here."

Bombs For Governor

NEW YORK, July 11 (Reuter).—The attack on the Governor of Pennsylvania states that one of the bombs found in Pennsylvania was intended for the Governor and had been inscribed.

It is disclosed that the Philadelphia bombs were markedly similar in construction and timing to the portions of the bomb found after the explosion at the British Pavilion.

Friendship For French Remains

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Replies to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Information, said that every step had been taken to make clear to the French nation that the actions of the French Government had in no way altered the warmth of our feeling for the French people.

Mr. Nicolson added that six broadcasts in the French language were available daily in addition to other means or approach.

New Zealand Sends More Airmen

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—A further large draft of New Zealand airmen arrived in England yesterday for service with the R.A.F., stated London to-night. The airmen had some months training in New Zealand, but will receive further instruction here before being appointed to units. The majority are pilots, but there are a number of air gunners and observers.

Rumanian Cabinet Reports Denied

BUCHAREST, July 11 (Reuter).—Reports that several young members of the new Cabinet had resigned are denied by the semi-official Rumanian agency, which states that the only member to resign was Professor Horea Sima, the Iron Guard leader, who was appointed Minister for Air.

The agency adds that the Government is carrying its work normally and in complete harmony.

LONDON, July 11 (UP).—Lieutenant T. D. Freeman Milford, brother of Miss Unity Milford has been promoted temporary Captain in the Queen's Westminsters and King's Royal Rifle Corps.

Large-Scale Evacuation

Alexandria Ready For Mass Raids

ALEXANDRIA, July 11 (Reuter).—Some 80,000 people have so far been evacuated from Alexandria, where since Sunday enemy aircraft has been carrying out air reconnaissances day and night.

The Governor has issued a notice that no siren warnings will be given when enemy aircraft is at a high altitude far outside the danger area, even though anti-aircraft batteries are in action.

A recent ministerial decree fixes certain localities in Alexandria as danger zones where tenants may immediately terminate contracts with landlords if they desire to evacuate.

Consideration is being given to the idea of declaring the whole city a danger zone.

NAZI "WARNING" TO C. AMERICA

Attempt To Influence Pan-American Parley

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—Germany is apparently indulging in a species of intimidation of the Latin-American nations, whose sovereignty is entitled to respect, declared Mr. Cordell Hull at a press conference to-day.

He was referring to the reported activities of Dr. Ott Reinebeck, German Minister to the five republics of Central America.

Dr. Reinebeck is reported in the newspapers to have issued "warning" in connection with the forthcoming Pan-American conference, calling governments of the Central American countries not to engage in any action on their own behalf.

Commenting on this, Mr. Hull said there was no theory on which any country should attack the sovereignty or freedom of action of another country.

UNDEFEATED SEASON

Sing Tao Squad Top Basketball League: Excellent Records

(By "Guard")

SING TAO BASKETBALL TEAM, which retained their unbeaten record this season when they were conceded a walk-over in their match with the Wah Kiu squad, came into being two years ago. Under the capable management of Mr. Aw Hoe, who originally organised the team in order to raise funds for the various charities, the team have gone from one success to another.

Employing all that is latest in offensive and defensive tactics, they are under the coaching of Mr. Poon Yu-kwan, himself being conceded one of the finest defensive players in the Colony. The team is composed of some of the finest offensive and defensive players to be found in the Colony.

Tactics

IN THEIR MATCH against the Combined Banks, Sing Tao overwhelmed them. They employed simple plays, a fast break offence and a "zone" defence.

Against the formidable Kwong Tai Union squad, they were forced to play all their trump and were seen in one of the finest games of the season. They had a slow breaking offence, and used the man-to-man defence.

Playing against the Chinese "Y", they won the game due to excellent screening, systematically done with fine blocking and an effective man-to-man defence.

RUDE SHOCK

In the opening stages of their game against Chung Sing, they received a rude awakening as the opposition was contrary to what they expected. However, in the second half, by employing simple screening and fast break plays performed superbly and a man to man defence they cracked the Chung Sing opposition, and once the Singers were put on the defensive the game was in the bag for the champions.

Paul Ying with their bustling methods again proved an enigma to the Taungs, which their coach soon solved. Systematic double screening and breaking plays was what he advised, and how correctly he proved to be evidenced in the results.

PEN PICTURES

Leung Kok-tok (Captain). His height 5 ft. 8 1/2" is utilised to good effect in sinking baskets from rebounds from the back board. He possesses an accurate shot and excels in the corner corners from which most of his points are notched.

Chan Sze-bun (L. Guard) is also good on re-bound shots, however, he comes in for mention with long shots very often taken from his charge in the back field.

San Chung-kin (Centre) is very good in the jumps. He possesses

LEUNG KOK-TOK, Captain and right guard of the Sing Tao basketball team.

Three World Featherweight Champions

Confusion in America

ADDING TO the boxing confusion in America, the Louisiana State Athletic Commission have recognised Jimmy Perrin, of New Orleans, as feather-weight champion of the world.

There are now three world feather-weight champions in America.

The National Boxing Association deprived Joey Archibald of the title because he did not defend it for six months, and in succession named Pele Scalzo as champion, after he had beaten Gingger Foran, of Liverpool, recently, but the New York State Athletic Commission still recognise Archibald.

The chairman of the Louisiana Commission pronounced Perrin champion after Scalzo had failed to accept an offer to fight Perrin for the crown in New Orleans. Perrin signed for the title fight the day after the N.B.A. had taken it from Archibald, and ordered Scalzo and Perrin to decide the issue. Since then the N.B.A. have named Scalzo as champion, and now the Louisiana Commission are recognising Perrin.

HENRY Cotton continues his good work on behalf of the Red Cross, for whose fund he has arranged another 12 exhibition games between July 13 and September 29.

JOHN Danell, famous England forward and Somerset cricket captain of other days, succeeds the late G. C. Robinson as president of the Rugby Union.

SAT. 13th AT THE KING'S

GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER TO ANTI-SPORT AGITATION

SIR JOHN ANDERSON, Home Secretary, hit the nail on the head when, in answer to a question in the House of Commons, he said that if workers were to maintain their efficiency some measure of relaxation of this kind was essential.

Those who are urging the importance of stopping football, cricket, horse racing and dog racing at this critical period appear to forget that not one of our national sports could be continued without the consent of the Government. And the Government are anxious not to interfere unduly with facilities for sport and recreation.

When at the outbreak of war the leaders of National sport sought the guidance of the Government they were encouraged to go forward under certain limitations. Since that time they have worked in loyal co-operation besides making a valuable contribution to the Red Cross fund.

Pairs Championship

Madar And Bone Win On Last Head

T. A. Madar and A. Bone scored a last head victory over J. A. Remedios and L. A. Gutierrez in an Open Pairs lawn bowls championship match at the Kowloon Football Club yesterday.

The score on 20th head was 10-11 after a ding-dong game, and rolling for the last head, the Kowloon C.C. pair managed the three to win by driving the jack into the ditch.

Civil Service Teams

The following teams will represent the Civil Service C.C. in lawn bowls league matches to-morrow:

accurate shooting and seldom misses when in the "lane". His 5 ft. 10 1/2" makes him exceedingly dangerous underbasket.

Tai Fook-sin (L. Forward) is a sharp shooter of repute, sinking baskets from any position and distance. Is steady but too much of an individual.

Li Fui-chak (Forward) is a smart player, steady, at home either in offence or defence. Like most of his team mates, is vastly experienced and never loses his head.

Loo Tsz-huen (R. Forward) is often referred to as "ice" for his level-headedness. Was one-time foremost forward in the Colony, and is still a valuable asset to any team at moments when things are not too rosy.

Poon Yu-kwan is only 5 ft. 3 ins., but is the trickiest and most reliable man on the court. Honorary coach of the team, his advice has many times proved invaluable in winning matches.

Wong Chan-ming (Centre), tallest member, uses his height to great advantage, picking balls from the backboard and sinking baskets. His close-up shots are known to never miss. He has an excellent fast break play which combines pivoting and take-passing to the highest degree.

Leung Kok-tok (Forward) is a fast break underbasket player, accurate shooter, has experience, stamina, is steady and very cool-headed.

Chan Sze-bun (Forward) is excellent in shooting, but depends too much on his own efforts to get points.

Leung Kok-tok, brother of the captain, is the latest acquisition. Holds great promise. Has an excellent fade-away break play which has caused many a defence to wonder how the basket was scored.

WAGES HAVE RISEN BY £2,000,000 A WEEK SINCE WAR STARTED

Most Of The Increase Goes Into Savings

By EDWARD C. GAYLER,
Sunday Dispatch Finance News Editor

BRITAIN'S wage bill has gone up by well over £2,000,000 a week since the war started. This sum represents the increases which employers are paying to their staffs to meet the increased cost of living.

It does not include overtime payments. Were this sum to be included, the total increase would be somewhere in the neighbourhood of £7,000,000 extra a week.

Part of this "extra" wages is going into the National Exchequer in the form of Savings Certificates and Post Office Savings Bank Deposits.

Since the National Savings Committee started its campaign, well over £190,000,000 has been raised to finance our war effort. Last week's total "small" savings was nearly £11,000,000, or the best week since the beginning of last December.

Then the new War Loan brought in an additional £300,000,000.

Now that strict control is being exercised over war profits, with the application of a 100 per cent. Excess Profits Tax and the limitation of dividends, people all over the country want to invest in Government securities.

Waiting For A New Loan

The public is anxiously awaiting another War Loan in order to find an outlet for savings accumulated in the last few months.

As soon as Sir Kingsley Wood cares to announce the details of his next loan, he can be assured of success.

In the meantime, people with money saved up need not wait for a new loan. They can put their money into Savings Certificates. It is not too much to expect £1,000,000 a day from this source.

At present, individual subscription to National Savings Certificates is limited to £375 worth, i.e., 500 Savings Certificates. No one is allowed to hold more than this amount for himself, but a man with a family can buy 500 certificates each for wife and children.

THE FIRST WOMAN SPY TO DIE

Mme. Carmen Mory, 33-year-old native of Berne, Switzerland, who has been described as the "Mata Hari of 1940," is to face a firing squad.

Her appeal against sentence of death for spying was recently rejected.

Fritz Erler, one-time Berlin scenario writer, who was her assistant, also had his appeal against death rejected.

Carmen was betrayed by a dog while hiding in a cupboard to listen to a conversation between two German refugees, Max Braun, former Saar Socialist leader, and Helmuth Klotz, an ex-member of the German Imperial Navy.

The Government needs every penny that the public can spare, and it is the small investors who are the backbone of the country's finance.

People who have reached the maximum of Savings Certificates can start again with National Defence Bonds, which are obtainable in multiples of £5. They can be bought through the many existing Savings Groups.

"Guess Where" Note In Burning Building

A pencilled note, with the words "Guess Where" and signed "C," was found on the door when a banana storage building in Byngrood, Barnet, Herts, was on fire recently.

Members of the Barnet Air Defence Cadet Corps, who were parading on a school playground helped to get a lorry from the burning building.

HAILE SELASSIE IN LONDON

Cable picture from London shows Haile Selassie, exiled Ethiopian Emperor, as he rushed to London from home at Bath, after Italy entered war.

He may make attempt to regain his throne from Italians.

PARACHUTISTS: POLICE ARMED

BRITAIN is now thoroughly prepared to deal with invasion by parachute troops. Holiday makers saw some of the precautions in operation recently.

Soldiers carrying revolvers mixed with the crowds on the sea-front of one town, and also patrolled the pier.

Bridges, main cross-roads, and other strategic points in the area were under armed guard.

At a civil airport in one town, troops in steel helmets, with fixed bayonets, guarded all approach roads and kept watch from the tower of the Administration building.

In some towns every N.C.O., although normally off duty, is carrying a rifle and ball ammunition. Certain police officers have been issued with automatic revolvers.

The new precautions cover inland as well as coastal areas. Large forces of troops and police were mobilised during the weekend. Thousands of small mobile military units have been formed.

They can be sent to threatened spots in lorries and cars, with rifles, machine-guns, and grenades, within a few minutes of getting warning.

Light tanks can also be rushed to any part of the country should parachute invaders prove particularly formidable.

Troops have been posted at vulnerable points; trenches have been hastily dug; barbed-wire barricades erected across roads.

Recently hundreds of cars, motor-cycles and motor-coaches were stopped on certain roads. Police co-operated with soldiers in stopping all vehicles and checking the identity of passengers.

WORKERS SAY: 'CANCEL ALL HOLIDAYS'

WORKERS throughout the country are urging employers to cancel all holidays in response to the appeal by Mr. Bevin, Minister of Supply, for a 24-hours-a-day, week drive for munitions.

After meetings between representatives of workers and employers at Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire, iron and steel works it was announced that all holidays had been cancelled at the request of 15,000 workers.

Leicestershire miners are working a full-shift day on Saturday to assist Britain's effort to produce more coal.

This means that the men do not leave the pits till 2.30.

Cricket and bowls matches in which miners usually take part on Saturday afternoons are being played in the evenings.

Some of the miners will work on Sunday.

The National Union of Blast Furnace workers decided to suspend all holidays to maintain the war production drive.

Mr. Ambrose Callaghan, of Middlesbrough, general secretary of the Union, said that he had received requests from all over the country to agree to cancellation of holidays.

"I am optimistic enough to believe that if we all pull our weight we will achieve victory some time this year, after which our workers can get their holidays," he added.

Woman's Death Baffles Expert

How Mrs. Alice Gilbert, 37, an Australian of Hill-way, Highgate, was found unconscious in a furnished flat in St. George's-square, S.W., on May 28 and died next day from coma was described at the inquest, which opened at Westminster.

A pathologist stated that he could not say what was the cause of the coma, and it was stated that an analysis would be made.

Mr. Geza Nagel, of Hill-way, Highgate, said that Mrs. Gilbert, who was his housekeeper, was a "C" category alien.

It was stated that when the police entered the flat they found Mrs. Gilbert near a disconnected gas stove.

The Bridal Gown

IT was such a pretty wedding dress . . .

There it lay all ready for the wedding that was to take place next day . . . a wedding for which the bride, 20-years-old Marie Ellen Hope, had travelled 3,000 miles across the ocean from Canada to England.

Joyce Harriet Humphries, who lived in the same house in which the bride was staying, was only 20 too.

And she could not keep her eyes off that wedding dress and the other dainty articles of the bride's trousseau.

"I wonder how it would look on me," she whispered to herself.

No sooner said than done. Excitedly she started to try it on.

Footsteps . . .

Then she heard footsteps coming up the stairs.

She was frightened now . . .

Nobody saw her as she dashed into her own bedroom. But she had the wedding dress and other things with her.

Time after time she tried to return them. But someone always came up the stairs as she did so.

The wedding took place next day, but the bride had no wedding dress.

Instead she had to be married to her soldier sweetheart in the clothes which she wore coming over from Canada.

She saw her wedding dress again—in Woking Police Court, where Joyce, now in tears, pleaded guilty to stealing it. And then the whole story came out.

Joyce was put on probation for a year and ordered to pay 10s. costs.

JAPAN AND HONGKONG

Colonial Secretary On Distortion Of Facts

It was reported in an evening contemporary yesterday that Mr. K. Okazaki, the Japanese Consul-General, had conveyed three demands of his Government to the Hongkong authorities, and that these include besides the prohibition of all exportation of materials and supplies to the Chungking Government—a demand for the suppression of anti-Japanese propaganda in the foreign and Chinese Press, and closure of all Chinese political organisations here.

Interviewed by a S. C. M. Post reporter, Mr. Okazaki said he would not state that he had actually made the requests enumerated, as it was a matter between the two Governments. "It is natural for us to make such requests, however," he said. "We have made these requests not only to the Hongkong Government but of other Governments also: The Burma Road report is inaccurate. I don't know where that could have come from."

A reporter also saw the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, to the accuracy of the report. He said it was not true, and declared:

"The statement in the China Mail of July 11 regarding three issues said to have been raised through the Japanese Consulate-General is quite unauthorized and represents a considerable distortion of the facts. Such hasty and irresponsible publication of rumours causes nothing but misunderstanding and trouble, and the Government has recently taken powers to deal with it."

A Silent Column

London, July 11.

An urgent and intensive campaign will be launched to-morrow by the Ministry of Information on behalf of the Government to organise the entire British population into a "silent column" pledged to kill rumour, stop indirect talk and mobilise itself against depressing and defeatist conversations.

All methods of publicity will be used to the fullest extent to secure these ends.

One of the schemes is for "chatter boxes" to be placed in clubs, hotels and homes, and offenders will be invited to make contributions to charities.—Reuter.

WARSHIPS ON GUARD

Vichy Verdict Awaited

Washington, July 11. Diplomatic circles reported to-day that the French aircraft carrier Bearn might leave Martinique and be interned at New Orleans.

It is reliably learnt that there are warships about Martinique in concentric circles—first, the French within the three-mile limit; second, the British outside; and, third, the Americans outside them and on observation duty.

All are awaiting the decision from Vichy regarding the disposition of the French units.—United Press.

LATE NEWS

Praise For Colony

Health Maintained Despite Refugee Influx

Hongkong and Shanghai have given a lesson to the world in the care of refugees, said Dr. J. C. Geiger, Director of Public Health in San Francisco, yesterday. Dr. Geiger is on one of his regular visits to the East to renew contacts with medical workers here.

"Whenever there is the sort of influx these cities have experienced, it is natural to expect a sharp rise in disease figures," he said. "In a large number of refugees from areas where there are not the facilities or background of public health work, there is bound to be some with disease. People suffering from malnutrition are susceptible to other diseases. Yet every major disease has been checked in Hongkong. There is no plague and no flea in the malaria Index. That is quite an achievement."

Dr. Geiger believes that an epidemic of some kind is inevitable after the war in Europe and Asia.

"When millions of men are concentrated for war purposes, when whole nations are set moving and migrating, without proper food or shelter, something is bound to happen. What it will be no-one knows, but public health workers regard an outbreak as inevitable," he declared.

"Fortunately, public health workers are better prepared for a post-war epidemic than they were in 1919. But for years millions of people in Europe have been living on substitute foods and inadequate diets, which must affect their resistance to such an outbreak."

"America is one of the countries where malnutrition is least a problem. Yet in San Francisco alone we spend US$30,000 a year supplying milk and orange juice to under-nourished children."

"The refugee and epidemic question may be very grave after the war. That is why it is heartening to find in Hongkong a demonstration of what can be done for refugees and for the protection of the general public where in the world," he added.

German Machines Chased Across the Channel R.A.F. REPELS STRONG ENEMY BOMBING RAIDS, NAZI PLANES DOWNED

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—An Air Ministry communiqué issued to-day states: "Attempts by strong forces of enemy bombers, escorted by fighters, to attack shipping and other objectives round our coasts to-day were met with vigorous resistance."

"Our fighters shot down twelve enemy aircraft and damaged many more.

"One of our fighters was lost.

"Aircraft of the Coastal Command, while on patrol in the Channel, accounted for an enemy fleet plane.

"In the course of the day, R.A.F. bombers attacked military objectives in the Low countries. One of our aircraft is missing.

"Yesterday our bombers delivered a daylight attack on aerodromes at St. Omer and Amiens. Five of our aircraft failed to return. In addition, an aircraft of the Coastal Command was lost on patrol."

In another battle over the southeast of England between seven enemy machines and Spitfires, one enemy bomber and four German airmen were rescued from the fiercely burning wreck.

The remainder of the invading planes were chased out over the Channel.

Three high explosive bombs dropped in the vicinity and exploded in a field without causing damage.

Two aeroplanes, believed to be German bombers, crashed into the sea about five miles away.

Raid On Boulogne

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—The Air Ministry news service states that five enemy aircraft are believed to have been destroyed and others severely damaged in a dawn raid on the Boulogne aerodrome by R.A.F. medium bombers.

The raiders took the ground defences by surprise, dropped their bombs and got away before the aircraft batteries could fire.

The first attackers scored a number of hits with high explosive bombs along one side of the aerodrome.

Ten minutes later 20 enemy aircraft standing at the back of some hangars were attacked.

12 Planes Downed

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—It is officially announced that 12 enemy aircraft were shot down and many damaged by the R.A.F. in to-day's attacks round the British coasts.

Military objectives in France and the Low Countries were again successfully bombed.

Nazi Fantasies

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Authorities in London issue the following comment on the German High Command communiqué: "Germany's air claims, which become daily more and more fantastic, are the measure of her annoyance over her own heavy losses."

"Yesterday's figures are a particularly sore point owing to their disproportion to British losses. For 14 German machines destroyed and 23 badly damaged, Britain lost only two fighters and not 25 machines as to-day's German communiqué claims."

First Aid Post Wrecked

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Some 15 explosive bombs were dropped on the south-east of England today. One fell on a first aid post, killing the people therein. Ten people in shelters were only sixteen feet from where a bomb exploded, but all escaped uninjured.

Twenty-four machines participated in the raid and it is believed that four were brought down.

The principal thoroughfare in one town presented the appearance of an earthquake having taken place. Two hotels and several large business establishments were damaged as were a bank and police station.

Havoc In Germany

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Reports received in London from Stockholm state that severe havoc has been caused by R.A.F. raids on towns in northern Germany.

In several places, the harbours now being dissolved.

Police And Gang Exchange Shots

A party of Police about 10 in number, comprising Europeans, Indians and Chinese, were sent to raid a gang of Chinese believed to be responsible for molesting farmers and their property in the New Territories during recent weeks.

They went yesterday morning and searched the countryside between Un Long and Castle Peak. At about noon they sighted on a hill a gang of men. Apparently the gang saw the Police and fired at them.

Shots Exchanged

The Police immediately spread out in an endeavour to encircle the gang and there was an exchange of shots. The Police party held low for some time and sent one of their number to telephone for reinforcements from Kowloon, but before their arrival the gang managed to disperse among the brush and get away.

One Man Wounded

On searching the area the Police found one man badly wounded in the leg. He was removed to the Kowloon Hospital.

It is believed that the meeting will result in a settlement of the incident, probably with a mutual expression of regret.

This is indicated by the fact that the Japanese army newspapers the "Tokio Shimbun" and the "Shin Shun Pao" have abandoned their violent anti-American tone, and are predicting a settlement of the incident to-day.

Italians Bomb Own Ships

Further News Of The "Strategic Retreat"

An official message received in Hongkong from the Admiralty this morning states:

"As was to be expected, the Italian Telegraph" asked us to ascertain if Government would facilitate the free delivery to evacuated families in Manilla of clothes and other necessities required for a prolonged stay or made desirable to avoid paying the high prices for such things charged in Manilla.

The Government official in charge replied that the matter had not been brought to his notice. He had no doubt that if people wrote to the Government, Government would see what could be done.

SKY IS LIMIT IN PURCHASES

American Aircraft For Britain

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—British policy regarding aircraft imports from America was to buy everything we could get, Lord Beaverbrook told the House of Lords to-day.

He declared: "In aircraft, the sky is the limit. In pursuit of that programme we have spent $10,000,000 for every day that the Aircraft Ministry has been in existence, including the French purchases."

"Altogether with the French purchases, we have spent over $60,000,000 out of a total programme of $1,000,000,000. The money is wisely spent."

Lord Beaverbrook said there had never been an hour's delay on account of the Treasury. The Americans were up to date with the programme and had so far delivered everything they had promised and were a little ahead of time.

We had not shortage of aircraft, but we must continue developing the programme as fully as possible.

LATEST

WASHINGTON, July 12 (Reuter).—A settlement removing any threat of Franco-British naval hostilities near Martinique appears to be in prospect. It is understood that Mr. C. G. Hull has intervened to seek a solution. It is expected that the prospective arrangement will involve an agreement by the French authorities to keep any warships or planes at Martinique or to permit them to be interned at some neutral port.

LONDON, July 12 (Reuter).—Twenty survivors of the tanker Athol Laird (9,000 tons), which was torpedoed on July 8, have landed on the Irish coast after rowing 400 miles across the Atlantic.

HERMES PLAYS PART IN DAKAR ACTION

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

VICHY, July 11 (UP).—According to the French Government, H.M.S. Hermes, the British aircraft-carrier at one time was attached to the China Squadron, took a prominent part in the battle of Dakar.

The French claim that planes from the Hermes bombed Dakar, provoking anti-aircraft fire.

It is also stated that the planes attacked after the Admiral commanding the French naval forces in West Africa had ignored the British ultimatum to surrender several small French units in the port.

MOSCOW, July 11 (Reuter).—President Kalinin received the newly appointed Yugo-Slav minister to Milan, M. Gabrilovich, thus marking the beginning of direct diplomatic relations between Yugo-Slavia and the Soviet Union, which had had no such contact since the Soviet regime was instituted.

Suspicion Of Sabotage

Man With Phosphorous On The Fatshan

Three weeks after the mysterious explosion and fire on board s.s. Fatshan, a Chinese travelling trader was arrested by an Indian guard on board the same steamer with a large tin of phosphorous, and this morning Detective-Inspector A. E. Carey told Mr. E. Hinsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy that there was a suggestion of sabotage.

Liu Kim-wai, 57, pleaded guilty to possession of the tin of phosphorous without a licence, and was sentenced to four months' hard labour.

JOSS Paper-Maker

Inspector Carey said when the steamer left Hongkong for Canton, an Indian guard came across Liu in the steerage, with a basket beside him. When questioned, he said the basket contained nothing.

The man had been a joss-paper maker for about 32 years, said Inspector Carey, but he suddenly changed his profession, and obtained all the necessary permits from Japanese authorities in Macao to carry on his present business as a trader.

The phosphorous was ordered to be confiscated.

Friendship For French Remains

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Replies to a question in the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Information, said that every step had been taken to make clear to the French nation that the actions of the French Government had in no way altered the warmth of our feeling for the French people.

Mr. Nicolson added that six broadcasts in the French language were available daily in addition to other means or approach.

Teleki Is Supreme Optimist

BUDAPEST: July 11 (Reuter).—Count Teleki, the Hungarian Prime Minister, on his return with Count Csanay from the conference at Munich with Hitler and Count Ciano, said:

"We are deeply grateful that amidst the life and death struggle of the Reich and on the eve of a fresh test, the Fuehrer found time to hear us in the presence of Count Ciano and take cognizance of vital Hungarian problems."

"I and the Foreign Minister are convinced that the Axis powers esteem Hungary as a friend who remains, in good or bad fortune, attached to them."

Count Teleki added that he was extremely grateful for Germany's deeply sympathetic attitude towards the Hungarian representatives.

BRITAIN'S ASSURANCE

No Interference With Japan's Trade

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—So long as Japan remains neutral Britain has no intention of interfering with her legitimate trade," declares a statement issued by the Ministry of Economic Warfare on the subject of the Pan-American conference at Havana on July 20 on America's surplus production problem.

The statement says: "Britain's interest in the conference is in preventing supplies finding their way to Germany and Italy, or to the German-occupied countries."

"Reports have sometimes bracketed Japan with Germany and Italy in connection with the blockade. Such reports are erroneous since Japan is a neutral country."

Will Be Intercepted

"While the Havana conference is not concerned with blockade questions," continues the statement, "shipments from the Americas destined for the enemy or for enemy-occupied countries will be intercepted by our control board."

"In the face of the ruthless German blockade of the United Kingdom it will not be for us to relax any of our blockade measures, but rather to persevere with them to the utmost, believing that an relaxation would come to strengthen the war."

The Ministry statement adds that Britain was anxious to see whether she could co-operate in a study of possible solutions to the American surplus reproduction problems which have been accentuated by the war.

Police Seize Chinese Codes

School Teacher Charged And Remanded

For unlawful possession of three code books or cyphers at 33 Full Wing Street, Lam Chung-yuen, described as a school teacher, appeared before Mr. Q. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. Defendant said that the codes had never been used in Hongkong. They were brought down from Canton in March last year. He was responsible for them to the Kwangsi Government and if he were to return to Kwangsi he would have to account for the codes to the Fifth Route Army.

Translation

Mr. Macfadyen explained to the defendant that he was arrested because he had no permission from the Hongkong Government to retain the codes.

Det.-Sgt. Macpherson, who prosecuted, said that other documents had been seized and were now in course of translation. He said the police were opposing granting of bail and asked for three days' remand for further inquiry.

The codes were seized during a raid on the premises yesterday.

"In the face of the ruthless German blockade of the United Kingdom it will not be for us to relax any of our blockade measures, but rather to persevere with them to the utmost, believing that an relaxation would come to strengthen the war."

The Ministry statement adds that Britain was anxious to see whether she could co-operate in a study of possible solutions to the American surplus reproduction problems which have been accentuated by the war.

It would need if they were to buy a bottle of whisky after paying their income tax.

But the greatest hardship of all for many people has evidently been the Government's unwillingness to accept volunteers for the Services until such time as they can be efficiently absorbed. It is stated that one business man met a young stockbroker from Liverpool and asked him what he was doing in London. He said he had come to enlist. "Good heavens," was the reply, "you must have a lot of influence."

This desire to be "up and at 'em" is clearly shown by the vast number of humorous quibbles about the Jesuit raids on Germany. It is said that one of the R. A. F. pilots who had been dropping leaflets returned to headquarters four hours after he was due. His Commanding Officer demanded an explanation. "Well, sir," he answered, "I was so quiet that I went down and pushed them under the doors." Another pilot returned much earlier than the others. It turned out that he had dropped the heavy parcels of leaflets without unloading them first. "Good heavens, man," exclaimed his C.O. "You might have killed somebody!" And it was possibly the same pilot who asked his C.O. later: "Well, sir, what do I drop on them now, leaflets or ration cards?"

This humorous impatience has evidently spread to the other Services; witness the alleged recent scene on the bridge of a patrolling destroyer. The First Lieutenant approaches the Captain:

"Why have we stopped, sir?"

"There is an enemy submarine immediately below us."

"Shall I get busy with the depth charges, sir?"

"No, I'm sending down a diver with leaflets."

So England laughs. But it would be wrong to judge from this apparent light-hearted attitude of the Englishman that he is not serious in his determination to fight and win. Laughter can sometimes be a dangerous signal, as it is always a revelation of confident strength.

Seat Of Government To Be Transferred

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
GRENOBLE, July 11 (UP).—

Marshal Petain, in a broadcast to-night, announced that he has formed a new Government composed of 12 Ministers. He has named the Governors for the 12 provinces of France.

Turning the British attack on the French Fleet as unjustifiable, Petain said, "If England thought we would give our Fleet to Germany, she was wrong."

The French Government will ask the German Government's permission to transfer the seat of government into German-occupied territory. The Government will go to Vichy and the Ministries to Paris."

He criticised the "international capitalism and international socialism which have exploited and degraded France."

He expressed his pleasure at the support the new Constitution is receiving and explained that it would prove a safeguard to the rights of family and labour, especially youth.

Reports from Vichy said the National Assembly voted to grant supreme powers to Marshal Petain "with the right to regulate labour and family in the Fatherland."

"France now becomes an authoritative and co-operative State," the announcement said.

Demands On Rumania

Probable Outcome Of Tri-Power Talks

BUDAPEST, July 11 (Reuter).—Count Teleki to-day reported on his conversations with Hitler, Ribbentrop and Ciano to the Hungarian Regent, Admiral Horthy.

Although there is genuine satisfaction at the invitation to the Hungarian statesmen to the Axis discussions, there is, nevertheless, some anxiety which will be relieved when the public know that Count Teleki has not returned empty handed.

It appears likely that Rumania will eventually be asked to yield Hungary a comparatively small strip of territory along the western frontier, including Magyar and the towns of Arad and Szatmar.

Talks At An End

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister, arrived back in Rome to-day.

Count Teleki, the Hungarian Prime Minister, and Count Csanay, his Foreign Minister, have returned to Budapest from Munich.

Their talks with Hitler and Ribbentrop ended on Wednesday night. Although it was stated that they would deal with Hungary's claim on Rumania, no mention of this was made in the official communiques which merely referred to the friendly atmosphere of the talks.

According to the Rome Press, Hungary was advised not to press her claims for the time being.

Hungarian Government newspaper, "Pester Lloyd," says that Hungary believes that she will play her part in the creation of a new order in Europe. Hungary will assume with joyous satisfaction the role which will be indicated to her by the dictators.

Belgian Officials Arrested

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—According to a Brussels message to the official German news agency, the former Belgian military judge, M. van der Meersch, the Director of the Security Police, M. Defoy, and five other high officials of the Security Police have been arrested.

They are said to be connected with sending thousands of people out of Belgium after the German invasion.

Prominent M.P. Dies

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—The death is announced of Mr. Charles Morling, Member of Parliament for Preston.

A Conservative, Mr. Morling was returned at the by-election on November 25, 1931.

Britain's Protection Against Starvation

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—In the House of Commons to-day, the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. R. S. Hudson, said that unless something unforeseen occurs between now and the harvest, we estimate that we shall realise as great a proportionate increase in our general farm production in the first 12 months of the war as we did during the last 18 months of the last war.

We must, said Mr. Hudson, raise enough food to keep the population healthy, even if our imports were imperilled.

The tens of millions of people in the continent are going to face in the next 12 months the danger of starvation. Millions may perish.

British agriculture will play a large part in saving the people of this island in a similar fate.

U.S. TO BUILD MORE PLANES

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—The National Advisory Defence Commission announces that orders of new aircraft totalling $100,000,000 will be placed in a few days.

Order contracts being negotiated will raise the total aircraft purchase programme to 25,000 planes with the final delivery date July, 1942.

Twenty-one per cent. of the planes will be for the Navy and the rest for the Army.

Stop The Four Columns

President Vargas of Brazil is right in saying that the world is marching toward a future different from all we have known. But he is wrong in his apparent assumption that free government is outmoded and that the future belongs to force and nationalism. Plainly democracy must adjust itself to new conditions, must make itself more effective in the economic and social life of peoples. But there is nothing new in the doctrine that "vigorous peoples, fit for life must follow the route of their aspirations."

There is nothing new in barbarism, despotism, and paganism. Indeed they are so antiquated that nations in which Christianity and enlightenment have been really established have outgrown them. Only where governments do not dare to let their citizens know or speak the truth is it possible to keep dictatorship and aggression going even temporarily. Recrudescences of despotism fight against an unquenchable, overwhelming love of liberty. Senator Vargas cannot tolerate violence and disorder in his own country; modern invention is fast rendering the world too small a place to tolerate the international anarchy his reign of force would bring.

The fact that the head of the largest Nation in Latin America can come out at this crisis with such support of totalitarianism ought to be a warning to every lover of free government. This could not have happened before Nazi and Fascist might overran free nations. Their display of power has encouraged every dissatisfied and undemocratic element in the world.

There are people even in the United States who—inspired by the military successes of brutalitarianism—have begun to say, "Well, the Nazis have got something. Perhaps democracy isn't so efficient. Maybe we'd better not offend these fellows; it might be wiser to come to terms with them."

WHEN ENGLAND LAUGHS

CYNICS say that to understand the Englishman it is necessary to listen to his jokes, however painful that experience may be.

Certainly the attitude of the man in the street towards the present war cannot be better illustrated than by the type of popular humour that has been evoked. As a student of the little things that conjointly make up social history, I have been particularly interested to observe the trend of that humour, and its brave significance. After a long experience of the overseas Briton in particular, his broad smile and emotional vagaries, I have been greatly impressed by the home-dweller's wholly individual reaction.

For instance, there is the chestnut (already) of the East End mother who counseled her small son: "Tell your teacher that you don't want to be evacuated. You had a sore arm last time, remember?" Then there is the yarn of the little lad who had been taken to a country house, and as he was led up the magnificent tree-lined drive, suddenly burst into tears. "I don't want to live in a forest," he replied to sympathetic query. And yet another youngster told his country host that "the war will not last long now." On being pressed for a reason, he continued: "Well, father has just been called up for the Army, and mother says he never keeps a job for longer than a month."

Only the other day a friend of mine entered into conversation with a small "evacuee" during a train journey. The child spoke very seriously about the progress of the war, but of the ballads on "Boney" at the time of the Napoleonic wars. Songs like "Run, Adolf, Run," have indicated more about it than she did. "He reads all the papers and knows all about them foreign countries and what they're up to. You should hear him talk to me Mooter about it. Argue, argue all day long." My friend enquired as to the learned brother's age. "Oh, just turned seven," replied the little girl. I myself discussed the war with a sturdy lad of nine and foolishly committed myself to the opinion that it might not last so very long. "Ah, but we said exactly the same thing in 1914, didn't we?" he instantly replied.

THEN there is the case of the small evacuee who was asked to write an essay on living in the country, and who said: "It does seem odd not having any pavements to walk on. But I suppose country people have not got so much money as Londoners." Possibly it was the same child who informed her teacher that the Equator was a "Maginot Line" running round the world."

Commenting on a remark by a Cockney woman who enquired if it were true that Hitler had once been a painter and decorator is perhaps the most revealing of the attitude of the common folk. On receiving an affirmative answer, she said reflectively: "Him—yes—so's my—husband. They're all the same." This is only matched, indeed, by the yarn about the newspaper seller in Ludgate Circus, who exhorted the passers-by: "Here you are—good laugh for a penny. Hitler's speech in full!"

Commenting on a remark by a Cockney woman who enquired if it were true that Hitler had once been a painter and decorator is perhaps the most revealing of the attitude of the common folk. On receiving an affirmative answer, she said reflectively: "Him—yes—so's my—husband. They're all the same."

AT least twenty people in all walks of life have attempted to tell me the story about the Russian in Berlin who says to his German guide: "I see that Hitler Strasse is late Bismarck Strasse, and Stalin Strasse is late Friedrich Strasse." Whereupon the Berliner replies: "That is so, comrade, late Bolshevik

"But there is a slightly different ring to the reported conversation in the Regent Street bus between a North One concerned the reason why the sirens were not sounded during the first raid. It was alleged that Scotsmen never took cover save during hospital tag days. And naturally the occupants of the train proceeding over the Forth Bridge at the time of the raid did not disembark on the southern side. They had paid their fares for the cross journey, and did not want to risk having to pay them again."

Fifth Columns are of little danger unless backed by the four columns of force. But if regimes dedicated to force continue to triumph, Fifth Columns will spring up everywhere. Stop the four and the fifth will disintegrate. That means that calmly but vigorously, nations which have made some progress toward rule by reason must defend themselves with democratically controlled force—and do it in time.

THERE is no doubt now that the Englishman can find a joke to temper any hardship. A waiter remarked in my hearing recently that even the newspapers were doing their best to banish gloom from their pages, by omitting to publish weather reports and racing results. It was pointed out after the Budget that since the "cost of living" had thereby been increased to 14s. 9d., bank managers increased their fees during the war, including the £100 in the £ that their clients

Life in A British Submarine

THE submarine, originally, control room; the helmsman, was intended to act the part of who is always awaiting orders a mobile mine field, but early from the Captain in the conning tower, and tow others looking deeply underwater craft to be after the hydroplanes and with major weapons of Naval offensive and enemy commercial transport.

Laymen think submarine crews lead an unnatural and unhealthy life. While too-long a spell, necessitated by naval action, resting on the sea-bed and living in a confined space where the air becomes pretty foul, is temporarily unhealthy, it is no more unnatural to work in a submarine than it is down a mine.

Of these two fields of essential national service working underground in a submarine is generally a far more comfortable job than working down a mine, and has such a contrast.

THE engine-room staff are expert mechanics, all highly trained in every type of Diesel and electric machinery. The speed of submarines when submerged varies from 9 knots upwards with a surface speed of from 12 knots to 25 knots in the case of the newest type of craft.

All the machinery is easy to handle, and when in action the men stand for hours by a wheel, a lever, through concentration on the or a switch, in tense concentration awaiting orders from the executive officers, and which they repeat to make sure they have heard correctly.

Service aboard submarines, while it is hazardous task under war conditions, has never lacked anxious task. Hunting, and volunteers. In spite of the mischances that have marked the facing death. On the surface progress of the submarine, there are targets for bombs from volunteers willing to serve and quick-firing guns of their traditional enemy, the destroyer; when submerged they are the prey of mines and of the dreaded depth charge. The latter weapon

Submarine crews are all picked men, who must possess the making of a first-class physique before acceptance for training. A record of personal efficiency drawn up by Commanding officers of ships in which volunteers have previously served is vital, and no man who is not mentally alert, dependable and loyal, and of good temper, would be considered, however physically fit.

Defeating a depth charge is a matter of expert underwater seamanship, when the Captain navigates his craft away from the scene of operation and danger. Submarines are fitted with scientific apparatus which enables them to listen when submerged to the passing of surface craft, and the accuracy of judgment of the rating on duty often determines the course the Captain takes in piloting his craft away from destruction.

One of a crew, yet he must be highly individualised, for in his work, under stress of circumstances, he may be called upon temporarily to take command. He must be a man of sterling character, who while at sea, can be depended upon by his fellows to act at all times with absolute efficiency: they rely upon him for the safety of their lives. Each man has his own job, and a mistake might lead to the loss of the whole.

In the larger British submarine's crew, numbering marines officers have very small cabins, and crew as much space as can be allowed to give them reasonable comfort. Laymen

DEFENCE OF EGYPT

Britain's Promise To Hold Good

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—In the course of a statement on the position in the Near East, Lord Halifax in the House of Lords said that in view of the rumours spread by enemy propaganda he wished to make it quite plain that since Italy entered the war, Britain had never pressed the Egyptian Government to declare war on her.

It was, however, obvious that British forces in Egypt, which at the request of the Egyptian Government had been strongly reinforced, would conduct operations against Italy from Egyptian territory.

To Fulfil Obligations

We intended to fulfil our obligations to defend Egypt, whose independence and vital interests were threatened by the Italian declaration of war against Britain, Egypt's ally. "I am happy to say that the Egyptian people as a whole fully understand that their interests are indissolubly linked with ours and regard the Italian promises and fair words with a well-founded suspicion and view with extreme detestation the possibility of Italian encroachment upon Egyptian or Sudanese soil. They remember only too well the Italian action in Libya and Abyssinia, and have no doubt about the scope of the total Italian aspirations.

There was a certain delay in the Italian Minister's departure from Cairo and they and other enemy agents insinuated that if Egypt would ignore her treaty obligations, she might avoid the worst consequences of Italian aggression.

Fateful Moment

Many representative Egyptians held that at this fateful moment for Egypt the interests of the Egyptian people demanded a stronger Government to demonstrate the country's determination to carry out to the letter and spirit of the treaty to the full.

The British Government felt entitled to intimate to their ally that this was also their view since the defence of Egypt devolves primarily upon us and we have very definite obligations under the treaty."

Palestine Quiet

Referring to Palestine, Lord Halifax said the situation there remains quiet and, apart from isolated acts of banditry, the country is enjoying a respite from internal disorder.

The release from internment of a large number of Arabs was received with appreciation.

One effect of Italy's entry had been to strengthen pro-British sentiment in all sections of the community.

The Jewish community was co-operating fully in matters of defence and the emergency measures which the present situation demanded, while the co-operation of the Arabs, who viewed with abhorrence the prospect of the application of Palestine of the Italian methods of colonisation in Libya, was no less whole-hearted.

Closer Ties With Turkey

"We remain bound to Turkey by the closest ties," continued Lord Halifax. He recalled that on Italy's entry into the war, the Turkish Prime Minister declared that Turkey would maintain the attitude of non-belligerency.

His Majesty's Government fully appreciate the circumstances which led to this decision of the Turkish Government, who throughout have acted in close contact with that of His Majesty.

"In the meantime, our treaty with Turkey stands, as does the loyal friendship and sympathy between our two peoples, on which the treaty was based and which has rendered in the past, as I hope it will in the future, a fruitful basis of constructive co-operation between us as long as the war continues and in the years of peace to come."

Nazi Duplicity

Lord Halifax continued: "Meanwhile the Germans are actively engaged in stirring up unwarranted suspicions and alarms wherever possible in the Balkans and in the Near East in hopes of making these countries the dupes of German policy, but I hope and believe that the peoples of that region, some of whom will not be enticed, will remain steadfast in their loyalty to the principles for which we are fighting, and I am encouraged to think that we are showing ourselves capable of affording assistance and protection to our friends and Allies in that part of the world."

"We shall maintain our efforts and prosecute the war with the utmost vigour, being confident of ultimate success of our arms."

Stock Exchange Strengthens

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—On the Stock Exchange to-day, oil holdings opened easy and later strengthened on better support, but other sections closed lower owing to quietness of trading.

Gilt-edged securities fluctuated narrowly. The final prices were unchanged or were slightly easier on the day.

Wall Street was firm.

New Fleet Bases Suggested

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—A recommendation that the United States should acquire and fortify fleet and air bases in Nova Scotia and Bermuda was made by three members of the House of Representatives Military Committee after a survey of the north-eastern coastal defences.

Large-Scale Evacuation

Alexandria Ready For Mass Raids

ALEXANDRIA, July 11 (Reuter).—Some 80,000 people have so far been evacuated from Alexandria, where since Sunday enemy aircraft has been carrying out air reconnaissances day and night.

The Governor has issued a notice that no siren warning will be given when enemy aircraft is at a high altitude far outside the danger area, even though anti-aircraft batteries are in action.

A recent ministerial decree fixes certain localities in Alexandria as danger zones where tenancy may immediately terminate contracts with landlords if they desire to evacuate. Consideration is being given to the idea of declaring the whole city a danger zone.

Voluntary evacuation has been accelerated by each raid when the railway station is crowded, extra trains run, while carts piled high with furniture, accompanied by Egyptian families, slowly wend their way from the city into the country.

PAPERS LAUGH AT ITALY

The Ark Royal Legend Appears Again

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH".

LONDON, July 11 (UP).—Afternoon papers to-day joke at Italy regarding their claim to have hit the Ark Royal and Hood.

The "Evening Star" had a headline, "Italy Bombs Goebbel's Ark Royal Story," and had this lead to the story, "The Ark Royal and the Hood have now been 'hit' by Italian propaganda."

The "Evening News" had a headline, "Rome Takes Lessons From Goebbel's."

The "Star" said: "The sinking of the Ark Royal used to be a favourite pastime of Goebbel's."

Mediterranean Chase

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Commenting on the Italian version of the short clash in the Mediterranean, the "Times" points out that both the British and Italian communiqué agreed that it ended in a chase.

Since it is well-known that Italian battleships have an advantage of several knots the world will be able to judge who was the pursued and who was the unsuccessful pursuer.

The "Yorkshire Post" commenting on the Rome version of the combat, says: "Musolini's Press chief is sparing Dr. Goebbel by sinking the British Navy with salvos of long-range communiqué. It is a pity to contrast them with cold facts."

FRENCH REJECT U.S. PROPOSAL

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH".

WASHINGTON, July 11 (UP).—French sources to-day declared that the French naval authorities have rejected the United States proposal to intern the aircraft-carrier Bear at a port in the United States.

The French authorities, it is stated, refuse to allow the Bear to leave French waters.

21 States Support Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—The re-nomination of President Roosevelt for a third term of office is demanded by 64 members of the House of Representatives, representing 21 states, in a formal declaration.

The declaration states that President Roosevelt's re-election would mean the preservation of American democracy.

New Zealand Sends More Airmen

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—A further large draft of New Zealand airmen arrived in England yesterday for service with the R.A.F., stated London to-night. The airmen had been months training in New Zealand, but will receive further instruction here before being appointed to units. The majority are pilots, but there are a number of air gunners and observers.

ARCHITECT CHARGED

Serious Allegations By The Crown

Hearing of a number of summonses issued under the Building Ordinance against the architect, contractor, and owner of the factory and land of New Kowloon Inland Lot No. 1069 was commenced before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at Kowloon Magistrate this morning.

Defendants are Wong Cheuk-long, architect, No. 14 Queen's Road Central; Looe Pahong, owner of Inland Lot 1069; Dao Kee, the building contractor; and the Safety Industrial Company, owners of the building on the lot.

The summons against Wong is that he is an authorised architect, at Ngau Chi Wan, between March 31 and April 5, he did condone material divergences or deviations from work as shown on plans prepared by him and approved by the Building Authority. He is further summoned for having allegedly neglected or failed to detect material divergences or deviation from the work as shown on plans prepared by him and approved by the Building Authority.

Looe Pahong is charged with causing to be made material divergences or deviations from the work as shown on the approved plans.

Dao Kee, building contractor, is summoned with carrying out certain material divergences or deviations on the work as shown in the plans; and the Safety Industrial Company, owners of the building on site No. 1069, are summoned for causing to be made the material divergences or deviations on the work.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted. The Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada appeared for Wong Cheuk-long, and pleaded not guilty. Mr. S. S. Wood, manager of the Safety Industrial Company, appeared for the Company and also for Looe Pahong. He pleaded guilty to both summonses.

Mr. Murphy said building plans were received by the Building Authorities on December 23 for New Kowloon Inland Lot No. 1069. The work was for a proposed extension to a factor. The plans were approved on January 30, and those plans gave a general lay out and reinforced concrete details. On March 19, amended plans were submitted and approved on March 29. The name of the architect was given as Mr. C. T. Wong.

In accordance with general practice, said Mr. Murphy, a routine visit was carried out to inspect the work. On April 30 Mr. Dobson, Inspector of Works, visited the site and found that the contractor had commenced to pour concrete into the second floor level. Mr. Dobson found that the work had not been carried out on the approved plans.

In the opinion of the building authorities the floor would not have been able to carry the normal stress and weight," said Mr. Murphy.

Continuing, Mr. Murphy said that if Mr. Dobson had not discovered this divergence, the concrete would have been poured over these bars and nobody would have discovered it without prising up the concrete.

One of the points against the architect was that he should have been present to see the work carried out according to the plans.

The owner admitted his guilt and the architect also wrote that the work had not been carried out according to the plans.

These summonses were issued under the Building Ordinance. Every material deviation or divergence from the plans approved by the building authority were deemed to be against the Ordinance. The case against the contractor and architect was that they knew or should have known that these alterations had been made without the approval of the building authority who must rely to a great extent upon the architect and building contractor. Failure on the part of the architect to report on any deviation was a very serious matter. It meant that the architect could not be relied upon in the administration of this very important municipal law.

Chang Ting-po, clerk of the Land Office, gave formal evidence as to the ownership of Kowloon Inland Lot No. 1069. It was in the name of Looe Pahong.

John Dobson corroborated the opening statement as regards his inspection of the work. He found a deficiency in the amount of the steel required in both the size of the bars and in the quality of the steel; the fault was particularly in the size.

On May 17 he again visited the site and took from the contractor two sets of plans; the plan showing reinforced details showed alterations similar to the divergences. The alterations on the plans had not been approved by the building authority.

Mr. D'Almada: Did you ever visit the site before March 6?

Witness: No.

Before March 6 and April 2 you never saw defendant Wong there?—No.

Did you know that work commenced early in February?—Yes. There was another overseer in charge of this work I took over.

And you know that it ceased for some time after two or three weeks?—Yes.

Did you know that this first stage of the work had been carried out by another contractor?—No.

Ever hear of a contractor Kwok Tai?—No.

After you reported to Mr. R. S. W. Paterson, did you know Mr. Paterson sent for Wong?—I did not know.

There is nothing on these altered plans to show they were prepared by Mr. Wong.—No.

They might have been prepared by anyone—Quite possible, but they are

GERMANY AND EIRE

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—A Bremen radio broadcast in English to-night referred to Eire's preparations to defend her neutrality and the position of Berlin. The announcer said that Germany was carefully observing these developments because she was only interested in the maintenance of absolute unreserved neutrality by Eire.

FINANCE CHIEFS TO CONFER

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—It is officially announced that on the invitation of Mr. Henry Morgenthau, the Secretary of the U.S. Treasury, Sir Frederick Phillips, an Under-Secretary of the British Treasury, will shortly arrive in Washington. The meeting will provide an occasion for a discussion of technical and other questions between the American and British Treasurers.

Sir Frederick Phillips visited Mr. Morgenthau in Washington during the autumn of 1937.

exact copies of the approved plans.

On May 17 you asked the contractor for these altered plans. There was no hesitation in handing them over?—None whatever.

Checked Plans

Ho Sui-lai, B.Sc., assistant engineer of the P.W.D. checked certain plans approved by the building authority and found that the live load capacity of the floor would be 112 lbs. per square foot. In May 18 he checked other plans and found that the live load capacity on the floor varied from 60 to 70 lbs. per sq. ft. According to the last-named plans there would not be sufficient strength for a factory irrespective of the fact whether there would be machinery or not.

S.S. Wood stated in the witness box, after having pleaded guilty on behalf of his company and the defendant Looe Pahong, that it was proposed to build an extension to a factory for the manufacture of rubber shoes. He had engaged Wong as architect to prepare the plans.

It would not be surprising, in view of the recent Press campaign, if the Russians at once sought a revision of the treaty of Montreux which gave Turkey power to forbid the passage of warships through the Straits.

Nazi Interference

Turkey's own attitude is likely to be made known in an official declaration which may be issued to-morrow. Exasperation appears to be growing in Turkey at German interference in her affairs. As seen here, the Axis powers appear to be concentrating on distracting Russia's attention from the Balkans and seeking to interest her in Turkey and the Near East instead.

The Turkish Press comments with increasing bitterness on the German attempts to sow discord between the Turks and the Russians.

Russian Denial

LONDON, July 11 (Reuter).—Moscow Radio denied reports that Russia had presented an ultimatum to Turkey.

"The reports are an invention which do not in the least correspond with the facts," said the announcer.

TURKS ON ALERT

Troops Recalled To Colours

ANKARA, July 11 (Reuter).—Events in Turkey began to move at a quickening pace to-day.

First came the news that the military authorities were calling up 17 classes of cavalry from the age of 22 to 38 by Monday, while all Turkish soldiers who, through ill-health, have been given leave, are being recalled to-morrow.

Then came the announcement that members of the People's (Government) Party were summoned at 10 a.m. to-day.

A communiqué issued in the afternoon stated that Dr. Recep Saydam, the Prime Minister, made a long and detailed declaration of the situation and the political events of the past few days.

Relations With Soviet

The Parliamentary Group approved unanimously and amid applause the Premier's review.

To-day's meeting apparently centred on Turko-Russian relations though official circles still discount any talk of a Russian "ultimatum" to Turkey. Relations between the two countries now appear to near crystallisation, especially as regards the long-standing Russian desire for a free passage of her warship through the Dardanelles.</

Confusion in America

ADDING TO the boxing confusion in America, the Louisiana State Athletic Commission have recognised Jimmy Perrin, of New Orleans, as feather-weight champion of the world.

There are now three world feather-weight champions in America.

The National Boxing Association deputed Joey Archibald of the title because he did not defend it for six months, and in succession named Pete Scalzo as champion after he had beaten Ginger Foran, of Liverpool, recently, but the New York State Athletic Commission still recognise Archibald.

The chairman of the Louisiana Commission pronounced Perrin champion after Scalzo had failed to accept an offer to fight Perrin for the crown in New Orleans. Perrin signed for the title fight the day after the N.B.A. had taken it from Archibald, and ordered Scalzo and Perrin to decide the issue. Since then the N.B.A. have named Scalzo as champion, and now the Louisiana Commission are recognising Perrin.

HENRY Cotton continues his good work on behalf of the Red Cross, for whose fund he has arranged another 12 exhibition-games between July 13 and September 29.

JOHN Daniell, famous England forward and Somerset cricket captain of other days, succeeds the late G. C. Robinson as president of the Rugby Union.

Sing Tao Squad Top Basketball League: Excellent Records

(By "Guard")

SING TAO BASKETBALL TEAM, which retained their unbeaten record this season when they were conceded a walk-over in their match with the Wah Kiu squad, came into being two years ago. Under the capable management of Mr. Aw Hoe, who originally organised the team in order to raise funds for the various charities, the team have gone from one success to another.

Employing all that is latest in offensive and defensive tactics, they are under the coaching of Mr. Poon Yiu-kwan, himself having conceded one of the finest defensive players in the Colony. The team is composed of some of the finest offensive and defensive players to be found in the Colony.

Tactics

IN THEIR MATCH against the Combined Banks, Sing Tao overwhelmed them. They employed simple plays, a fast break offence and a "zone" defence.

Against the formidable Kwong Tai University squad they were forced to play all their trump cards and were seen in one of the finest games of the season. They had a slow break offence, and used the man-to-man defence.

Playing against the Chinese "yus", they won the game due to excellent screening, systematically done with fine blocking and an effective man-to-man defence.

RUDE SHOCK

In the opening stages of their game against Chung Sing, they received a rude awakening as the opposition was contrary to what they expected. However, in the second half, by employing simple screening and fast break plays performed superbly and a man to man defence they cracked the Chung Sing opposition, and once the Singers were put on the defensive the game was in the bag for the champions.

Pui Ying, with their bustling methods again proved an enigma to the Tuons, which their coach soon solved. Systematic double screening and breaking plays, was what he advised, and how correctly he proved to be was evidenced in the results.

PEN PICTURES

Leung Kok-tok (Captain). His height—5 ft. 8½ is utilised to good effect in sinking baskets from rebounds from the back board. He possesses an accurate shot and excels in the coffin corners from which most of his points are notched.

Chan Sze-hun (L. Guard) is also good on re-bound shots, however, he comes in for mention with long shots very often taken from his charge in the back field.

San Chung-kin (Centre) is very good in the jumps. He possesses

LEUNG KOK-TOK, Captain and right guard of the Sing Tao basketball team.

GOVERNMENT'S ANSWER TO ANTI-SPORT AGITATION

SIR JOHN ANDERSON, Home Secretary, hit the nail on the head when, in answer to a question in the House of Commons, he said that if workers were to maintain their efficiency some measure of relaxation of this kind was essential.

Those who are urging the importance of stopping football, cricket, horse racing and dog racing at this critical period appear to forget that not one of our national sports could be continued without the consent of the Government. And the Government are anxious not to interfere unduly with facilities for sport and recreation.

When at the outbreak of war the leaders of National sport sought the guidance of the Government they were encouraged to go forward under certain limitations. Since that time they have worked in loyal co-operation besides making a valuable contribution to the Red Cross fund.

Pairs Championship

Madar And Bone Win On Last Head

T. A. Madar and A. Bone scored a last head victory over J. A. Remedios and L. A. Gutierrez in an Open Pairs lawn bowls championship match at the Kowloon Football Club yesterday. The score on 20th head was 16-11 after a ding-dong game, and rolling for the last head, the Kowloon C.C. pair managed the three to win by driving the jack into the ditch.

Civil Service Teams

The following teams will represent the Civil Service C.C. in lawn bowls league matches tomorrow:

1st team v. Police (Home)—
E. W. C. Simmonds, J. Hollidge, A. W. Grimmett and F. J. Jones.
M. E. Purvis, W. J. Burling, M. N. Rekun and E. Strange.
Geller, J. W. Deakin, L. A. Collier and J. F. McGeown.
2nd team v. Hongkong C.C. (away)—
P. D. Crawley, H. Lord, H. F. Harper and E. Strange.
A. W. Shepherd, E. Kirton, and W. R. H. Walker, J. R. Carr, A. Steven, and B. Fecchini.
3rd team v. H. Parrott, F. S. Austin and J. C. Lucas.

Accurate shooting and seldom misses when in the "lane". His 5 ft. 10½ makes him exceedingly dangerous underbasket.

Tai Fook-sin (L. Forward) is a sharp shooter of repute, sinking baskets from any position and distance. Is steady but too much of an individual.

Li Fui-chuk (Forward) is a smart player, steady, at home either in offence or defence. Like most of his team mates, is vastly experienced and never loses his head.

Lo Tsun-huen (R. Forward) is often referred to as "ice-ice" for his level-headedness. Was one-time foremost forward in the Colony, and is still a valuable asset to any team at moments when things are not too rosy.

Poon Yiu-kwan is only 5 ft. 3 ins., but is the trickiest and most reliable man on the court. Honorary coach of the team, his advice has many times proved invaluable in winning matches.

Wong Chan-ming (centre), tallest member, uses his height to great advantage, picking balls from the backboard and sinking baskets. His close-up shots are known to never miss. He has an excellent fast break play which combines pivoting and fake-passing to the highest degree.

Li Sze-kit (Forward) is a fast break, underbasket player, accurate shooter, has experience, stamina, is steady and very cool-headed.

Chan Sze-hung (Forward) is excellent in shooting, but depends too much on his own efforts to get points.

Leung Kok-tsu, brother of the captain, is the latest acquisition. Holds great promise. Has an excellent fade-away, break play, which has caused many a defence to wonder how the basket was scored.

WAGES HAVE RISEN BY £2,000,000 A WEEK SINCE WAR STARTED

Most Of The Increase Goes Into Savings

By EDWARD C. GAYLER,
Sunday Dispatch Finance News Editor

BRITAIN'S wage bill has gone up by well over £2,000,000 a week since the war started. This sum represents the increases which employers are paying to their staffs to meet the increased cost of living.

It does not include overtime payments. Were this sum to be included, the total increase would be somewhere in the neighbourhood of £7,000,000 extra a week.

Part of this "extra" wages is going into the National Exchequer in the form of Savings Certificates and Post Office Savings Bank Deposits.

Since the National Savings Committee started its campaign, well over £190,000,000 has been raised to finance our war effort. Last week's total "small" savings was nearly £11,000,000, or the best week since the beginning of last December.

Then the new War Loan brought in an additional £300,000,000.

Now that strict control is being exercised over war profits, with the application of a 100 per cent. Excess Profits Tax and the limitation of dividends, people all over the country want to invest in Government securities.

Waiting For A New Loan

The public is anxiously awaiting another War Loan in order to find an outlet for savings accumulated in the last few months.

As soon as Sir Kingsley Wood cares to announce the details of his next loan, he can be assured of success.

In the meantime, people with money saved up need not wait for a new loan. They can put their money into Savings Certificates. It is not too much to expect £1,000,000 a day from this source.

At present, individual subscription to National Savings Certificates is limited to £375 worth, i.e., 500 Savings Certificates. No one is allowed to hold more than this amount for himself, but a man with a family can buy 500 certificates each for wife and children.

The Government needs every penny that the public can spare, and it is the small investors who are the backbone of the country's finance.

People who have reached the maximum of Savings Certificates can start again with National Defence Bonds, which are obtainable in multiples of £5. They can be bought through the many existing Savings Groups.

"Guess Where" Note In Burning Building

A pencilled note with the words "Guess Where" and signed "C." was found on the door when a banana storage building in Byngroad, Barnet, Herts, was on fire recently.

Members of the Barnet Air Defence Cadet Corps, who were parading on a school playground helped to get a lorry from the burning building.

Italian Troopship Blazes, Sinks

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

ROME, July 11 (UPI)—It is admitted that the Italian troopship Paganini caught on fire and sank, 12 miles off Durazzo on June 20.

It is further reported that about 950 men are missing, including six Albanian officers.

The ship was one day out of Bari, en route to Durazzo when the fire occurred.

Americans Leave

MADRID, July 11 (Reuter)—The wives and families of most members of the American Embassy in Madrid and the staff of the Company Telefonos de Espana, in which American capital is largely interested, have left Spain or are leaving to-day.

HAILE SELASSIE IN LONDON

WORKERS SAY: 'CANCEL ALL HOLIDAYS'

WORKERS throughout the country are urging employers to cancel all holidays in response to the appeal by Mr. Bevin, Minister of Supply, for a 24-hours-a-day, week drive for munitions.

After meetings between representatives of workers and employers at Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire, iron and steel works it was announced that all holidays had been cancelled at the request of 15,000 workers.

Leicestershire miners are working a full-shift day on Saturday to assist Britain's effort to produce more coal.

This means that the men do not leave the pits till 2.30.

Cricket and bowls matches in which miners usually take part on Saturday afternoons are being played in the evenings.

Some of the miners will work on Sunday.

The National Union of Blast Furnacemen decided to suspend all holidays to maintain the war production drive.

Mr. Ambrose Callaghan, of Middlesbrough, general secretary of the Union, said that he had received requests from all over the country to agree to cancellation of holidays.

"I am optimistic enough to believe that if we all pull our weight we will achieve victory some time this year, after which our workers can get their holidays," he added.

Woman's Death Baffles Expert

How Mrs. Alice Gilbert, 37, an Austrian of Hill-way, Highgate, was found unconscious in a furnished flat in St. George's-square, S.W., on May 23 and died next day from coma, was described at the inquest which opened at Westminster.

A pathologist stated that he could not say what was the cause of the coma, and it was stated that an analysis would be made.

Mr. George Nagel, of Hill-way, Highgate, who said that Mrs. Gilbert, who was his housekeeper, was a "C" category alien.

It was stated that when the police entered the flat they found Mrs. Gilbert near a disconnected gas stove.

PARACHUTISTS: POLICE ARMED

BRITAIN is now thoroughly prepared to deal with invasion by parachute troops. Holiday makers saw some of the precautions in operation recently.

Soldiers carrying revolvers mixed with the crowds on the sea-front of one town, and also patrolled the pier.

Bridges, main cross-roads, and other strategic points in the area were under armed guard.

At a civil airport in one town, troops in steel helmets, with fixed bayonets, guarded all approach roads and kept watch from the tower of the Administration building.

In some towns every N.C.O., although normally off duty, is carrying a rifle and ball ammunition. Certain police officers have been issued with automatic revolvers.

The new precautions cover inland as well as coastal areas. Large forces of troops and police were mobilised during the weekend. Thousands of small mobile military units have been formed.

They can be sent to threatened spots in lorries and cars, with rifles, machine-guns, and grenades, within a few minutes of getting warning.

Light tanks can also be rushed to any part of the country should paratroopers prove particularly formidable.

Troops have been posted at vulnerable points; trenches have been hastily dug; barbed-wire barricades erected across roads.

Recently hundreds of cars, motor-cycles and motor-coaches were stopped on certain roads. Police co-operated with soldiers in stopping all vehicles and checking the identity of passengers.

ARMY NEEDS MORE OFFICERS

The Army Officers' Emergency Reserve, which was closed last November, to enable the overwhelming numbers of applicants for enrolment to receive attention, is to be reopened with age limits.

The upper age limit for candidates is 60 (qualified engineers 65).

The lower limit has been raised from 31 to 37, but applications for men between 31 and 36 may still be entertained in certain cases.

There is a need for candidates with engineering, transport, and catering experience, for those skilled in up-to-date wireless and tele-communications, and for retired warrant officers and N.C.O.s with Army staff clerical experience.

Applications should be made in writing to the Under-Secretary of State, War Office (A.G.12), Thames House, Millbank, S.W.1.

JAPAN AND HONGKONG

Colonial Secretary On Distortion Of Facts

It was reported in an evening conversation yesterday that Mr. K.
Okazaki, the Japanese Consul-
General, had conveyed to the Hongkong authorities that that these included besides the prohibition of all exportation of material and supplies to the Chungking Government the demand for the suppression of anti-Japanese propaganda in the foreign and Chinese Press, and closure of all Chinese political organisations here.

Interviewed by a S. C. M. Post reporter, Mr. Okazaki said he would not state that he had actually made the requests enumerated, as it was a matter between the two Governments. "It is natural for us to make such requests, however," he said.
"We have made these requests not only of the Hongkong Government but of other Governments also. The Burma Road report is inaccurate. I don't know where that could have come from."

A reporter also saw the Colonial
Secretary, the Hon. Mr. R. A. C.
North, as to the accuracy of the report. He said it was not true, and declared:

The statement in the China Mail of July 11 regarding three issues said to have been raised through the Japanese Consulate-General is quite unauthorised and represents a considerable distortion of the facts.
Such hasty and irresponsible publication of rumours causes nothing but misunderstanding and trouble, and the Government has recently taken powers to deal with it."

A Silent Column

London, July 11.
An urgent and intensive campaign will be launched to-morrow by the Ministry of Information on behalf of the Government to organise the entire British population into a "silent column" pledged to kill rumour, stop indiscreet talk and mobilise itself versations.

All methods of publicity will be used to the fullest extent to secure these ends.

One of the schemes is for "chatter boxes" to be placed in clubs, hotels and homes, and offenders will be invited to make contributions to charities.—Reuter.

WARSHIPS ON GUARD

Vichy Verdict Awaited

Washington, July 11.
Diplomatic circles reported to-day that the French aircraft carrier Bearn might leave Martinique and be interned at New Orleans.

It is reliably learnt that there are warships about Martinique in concentric circles—first, the French within the three-mile limit; second, the British outside; and, third, the Americans outside them and on observation duty.

All are awaiting the decision from Vichy regarding the disposition of the French units.—United Press.

LATE NEWS

NAZI "WARNING" TO C. AMERICA

Attempt To Influence Pan-American Parley

WASHINGTON, July 11 (Reuter).—Germany is apparently indulging in a species of intimidation of the Latin-American nations, whose sovereignty is entitled to respect, declared Mr. Cordell Hull at a press conference to-day.

He was referring to the reported activities of Dr. Ott Reinebeck, German Minister to the five republics of Central America.

Dr. Reinebeck is reported in the newspapers to have issued a "warning" in connection with the forthcoming Pan-American conference, telling governments of the Central American countries not to engage in any action aimed directly or indirectly against Germany.

Commenting on this, Mr. Hull said there was no theory on which any country should attack the sovereignty or freedom of action of another country.

A reporter also saw the Colonial
Secretary, the Hon. Mr. R. A. C.
North, as to the accuracy of the report. He said it was not true, and declared:
